OVERVIEW

Caesars Palace spans 85 acres at the heart of the Las Vegas Strip, just 10 minutes from McCarran International Airport. Caesars Palace offers a total of 3,980 rooms, including more than 300 suites, throughout five hotel towers (not including Nobu Hotel):

- Julius Tower (formerly the original Roman Tower) – 587 rooms and suites; opened in 1966 and renovated in 2015
- Palace Tower – 1,181 rooms and suites, including 10 luxurious new villas on the 29th floor; opened in 1997, refreshed in 2006 and renovated in 2017
- Augustus Tower – 952 rooms and suites, including three luxury villas; opened in 2005 and refreshed in 2016
- Octavius Tower – 668 rooms and suites, including six luxury villas; opened in 2012
- Colosseum Tower (formerly Forum Tower) – 452 rooms and suites, including two villas; completed an $83 million renovation of the Forum Tower in 2008; renovated and renamed to the Colosseum Tower in 2023
- Nobu Hotel (formerly Centurion Tower) – 182 rooms, including 18 suites and one villa; opened in 2013 and refreshed in 2021

In September 2022, Caesars Palace completed a multimillion-dollar renovation of the original main entrance, iconic casino dome and porte-cochère. The redesigned space includes a dramatic entryway with a coffered ceiling, refreshed gaming areas and the new Galleria Bar in the hotel lobby. After raising the roof of the entryway to match the grandeur of the hotel lobby, guests arriving at Caesars Palace now enter a beautifully lit space, with a coffered ceiling and an intricate marble mosaic floor. A 15-foot-tall Carrara marble statue of Augustus Caesar welcomes visitors under the raised ceiling, which features hand-painted illustrations of Roman gods and a spectacular chandelier containing 70,000 crystals.

OPENING DATE

Aug. 5, 1966

TOWERS

The 24-story Colosseum Tower (formerly Forum Tower) features 440 renovated guest rooms and suites, as well as 10 two-story suites that provided inspiration for the movies “Rain Man” and “The Hangover” and two luxurious villas. Designed by Michael Medeiros of RDH Interests, Inc., the interiors of the new rooms feature high contrasts of black and white, emerald accents inspired by the jewelry worn by Cleopatra and splashes of Roman red. The renovated bathrooms boast linear-veined Marmara Striato marble floors imported from Europe and white quartz vanity tops and accent bands in the glass-enclosed shower. Select Colosseum Tower rooms offer views of the Las Vegas Strip. Suites start at 800 square feet, and larger room layouts include a living room with a couch, coffee table, chair and a dining or pool table.

In December 2021, Nobu Hotel Caesars Palace completed a multimillion-dollar refresh of all 182 guest rooms and public areas. To create a more modern, residential feel, the award-winning global architecture and design firm Rockwell Group re-envisioned the guest rooms and common areas it first designed in 2013. Rockwell Group drew inspiration from kintsugi, the Japanese art of repairing broken pottery with gold epoxy – creating cohesion from collage. This element creates a streamlined, lighter and more luxe take on the original design concept.

In 2017, Caesars Palace completed a renovation of its Palace Tower, the resort's largest tower, featuring 1,181 stylishly designed guest rooms and suites and a price tag topping $100 million. Considered the crown jewel of the tower, the coveted 29th floor features 10 luxurious villas ranging in size from 2,750 to 4,085 square feet and featuring exquisite finishes, bespoke furnishings and a curated art program. The Palace Tower's elegantly designed guest rooms and suites feature cool grey tones accented by royal blue and champagne gold. Centrally located, the Palace Tower is a short walk to the resort's convention center, Appian Way shops and Garden of the Gods Pool Oasis.

During the resort’s 50th anniversary celebration in 2016, Caesars Palace reimagined its original hotel tower, the Roman Tower, and transformed it into the Julius Tower. The $75 million hotel tower renovation was part of a $1 billion investment into the resort. With 587 rooms, the Julius Tower features modern interiors with a warm, neutral palette and a pop of golden yellow.

Refreshed in 2016, the 948-room Augustus Tower features a classic Caesars theme with a contemporary design, including cool grey tones accented by royal blue and champagne gold. These luxurious rooms are conveniently located on the southern end of the resort near the Garden of the Gods Pool Oasis and hotel lobby. The Augustus Tower initially opened in August 2005, with an additional valet entrance for VIP guests.

Caesars Palace and Nobu Hospitality developed the world's first Nobu Hotel, a boutique hotel within the larger destination resort that opened in February 2013. The innovative concept integrates an exclusive hotel tower with the first Nobu Restaurant & Lounge on the Las Vegas Strip. The 182-room Nobu Hotel offers 18 suites and a rooftop villa with stylish interiors showcasing natural materials fused with Nobu's signature Japanese elegance. Nobu Hotel guests enjoy a bevy of perks, including private check-in, Natura Bisse luxury bath amenities and access to the exclusive in-room dining menu curated by Nobu's acclaimed culinary team.

On Jan. 2, 2012, Caesars Palace opened Octavius Tower, the resort's sixth hotel tower. The 23-story tower features 642 rooms, including 62 suites and six luxury villas. The Octavius Tower offers a luxurious boutique hotel experience within Caesars Palace, featuring stylish rooms with a neutral palette, starting at 550 square feet.

In 2010, Caesars Palace debuted three luxury villas in the Augustus Tower, with spacious floor plans spanning an average of 8,800 square feet. Each villa features imported marble floors; a private elevator; hand-distressed wood parquet and inlaid wood floors; hand-painted murals and ceiling designs; wood and stone archways and casings; a billiard room; a plush home entertainment theatre; whirlpool bathtubs in the master and guest baths; steam mist showers in all bathrooms; fully integrated audio-visual systems with televisions in nearly every room and custom contemporary artwork. An outside private terrace includes a spa tub, fire pit, seating and dining area with a gas lantern and wall sconces. Villa guests may also enjoy the luxury of private butler and concierge services. The 900-room Augustus Tower opened in late 2005.

CONVENTIONS

300,000 square feet of meeting/convention/ballroom facilities

ABSINTHE at Caesars Palace is one-part vivid imagination, two parts carnival and a shot of old-world burlesque mixed with a heavy dash of decadence. Brasserie B follows the tremendous success of Amalfi by Bobby Flay and offers an intersection of French cuisine and Flay's creative touches. Signature menu items include a variety of grilled proteins served with house-made French fries, such as Lobster avec Frites and Ribeye Piquant avec Frites. The brunch menu showcases Flay's take on popular dishes, like Eggs Royale (a variation of eggs benedict), Omelette Basquaise and Pain Perdu.

Designed by Olivia Jane Design, the restaurant transports guests from the heart of the Las Vegas Strip to a timeless brasserie in Paris. From the casino floor, guests are drawn to Brasserie B's entrance by a neon sign curved along an exaggerated cornice and the warm interior lighting. The restaurant features an L-shaped, 20-seat bar with weathered marble, fluted wood and zinc accents. The lounge flows into the main dining space, which includes a showstopping raw bar with a lit canopy that spills over the tables below. The intimate, 175-seat dining room features blown glass chandeliers, cane-backed cafe chairs and handmade subway tile. Brasserie B is open for brunch, lunch and dinner.

Peter Luger Steak House
Legendary New York Steak House Peter Luger is now open at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas. This marks the first domestic expansion in more than 60 years for the restaurant, which opened its doors in 1887 and is commonly known as New York City's original steak house. It is Peter Luger's first U.S. location outside of New York.

Regulars often order the Steak for One, Two, Three or Four without looking at the menu. The restaurant also offers Rib Steak for One or Two, seafood options and a variety of renowned appetizers, salads and sides. Additionally, Peter Luger fans line up for its signature Burger, which is only available at lunchtime. Guests can choose to order a side of Peter Luger's famous extra-thick cut bacon for a meatier burger. Exclusive to the Las Vegas location, the Chilled Shellfish Tower perfectly complements Peter Luger's notable signatures. Designed by Jeffrey Beers International, Peter Luger Steak House Las Vegas draws inspiration from the original Brooklyn location, featuring exposed brick, wood paneling, oak floors and tabletops, and industrial windows. The restaurant spans 8,700 square feet and seats more than 300 people throughout the main dining room, large central bar and multiple private dining options.

Amalfi by Bobby Flay
Inspired by Bobby Flay's extensive travels to Italy and the Amalfi Coast, Amalfi by Bobby Flay is the award-winning chef's first Italian restaurant concept. Amalfi transports guests to the Mediterranean with its enchanting blend of coastal ease and fresh, bright flavors. Flay's interest in Italian cuisine runs deep, with special admiration for its simplistic elegance and festive eating. Amalfi's menu features light antipasti, a large selection of rich pasta, whole fresh fish and a few traditional desserts with a twist. A focal point of Amalfi is a fish and seafood display, inspired by authentic Italian markets and staffed by a knowledgeable fishmonger, who is available to answer any guests' questions – from fish origination to its Las Vegas arrival and more.

Bacchanal Buffet
Bacchanal Buffet redefined the Las Vegas buffet experience when it opened in 2012.
