Neenah Releases 2021 Update on Environmental, Social, and Governance Report

ALPHARETTA, Ga.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Neenah, Inc. (NYSE: NP), a leading global manufacturer of specialty materials focused on filtration, specialty coatings, engineered materials, and imaging and packaging released an update to its 2021 Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) report which highlights the ways in which Neenah is enabling sustainable practices that prioritize the safety and well-being of employees, our communities and environment.

Highlights from the Neenah 2021 Updated ESG Report include a 30% decline in the number of OSHA recordable injuries (Photo: Business Wire)

The report details the progress we've made in the last three quarters including:

- Achieving a full-year 30% improvement in recordable incident rates in our facilities, as we aspire to reach zero injuries
- Establishing long-term goals for reducing greenhouse gas emissions as part of our broader strategy to reduce our environmental impact
- Expanding our portfolio of environmentally preferred products and receiving several new certifications from the U.S. Department of Agriculture
- Participating in national and regional initiatives that leverage the resources and influence of business to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion
- Updating the charters of our three Board of Director committees to further define the Board's role in ESG oversight
- Executing our first global employee engagement survey and creating a plan to put employee insights into action

This ESG report is a companion piece to the March 2021 release of the Neenah Corporate Sustainability Report. When reviewed together, the two publications present a full picture of our ESG commitments and achievements. We plan to release a full 2022 report based on Global Reporting Standards (GRI), later this year.
