American Airlines Newsroom

NEWS RELEASE

Packing for a purpose in London

3/26/2019

London-based American Airlines team members recently gathered to pack 3,500 Youth Can Do It hygiene kits in support of The Prince's Trust. "It was exciting to see how American can make an impact in these young people's lives and build a lasting legacy," said Rachel Laing, Sales Services and Support Assistant.

The Prince's Trust, founded by Prince Charles, helps vulnerable young people in the United Kingdom get their lives back on track. American has been a proud partner of the Prince's Trust since 2018, and this packing event was the first of many volunteer activations for our teams to work together to help the community.

Learn a little more about our partnership with The Prince's Trust and this first-of-its-kind packing event in the video below.

