Kid reporter goes behind the scenes of American's Stand Up To Cancer partnership

10/22/2019

American's 7-year-old Kid Reporter EJ, who has a deep family connection to cancer after losing his grandfather and great grandfather to cancer in 2014, recently had a chance to meet with American team members and Stand Up To Cancer researchers and founders to explore why American partners with Stand Up To Cancer. After he saw the Names on a Plane campaign, he wanted to learn more and how the company is working with Stand Up To Cancer to help more cancer patients become long-term survivors. Learn more about what EJ discovered in the video below.
