Holiday travel tips from American Airlines flight attendants — and their kids

12/4/2019

Flight attendants from across the American Airlines network sat down with their frequent-flyer kids to share some of their favorite tips for flying with your little ones during the busy holiday season. From snack and gift tips to using sticky notes as toys — these young, experienced travelers will have you prepared (and even excited) for your upcoming trip to grandma's house. See more in the video above.
