Cboe Global Markets Supports Conversation on Market Data and Access

CHICAGO – September 25, 2018 - Cboe Global Markets, Inc. (Cboe: CBOE), one of the world's largest exchange holding companies, welcomes the announcement by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) that its Division of Trading and Markets will host a two-day roundtable covering market data and access on October 25 and 26, 2018.

"We applaud the SEC for hosting a roundtable on industry market data and we look forward to participating in this conversation. Cboe has consistently supported transparency and broad industry participation in these critical discussions involving market structure and market data. This is a positive step in a long process as the industry continues to evaluate ways to enhance our markets," said Ed Tilly, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Cboe Global Markets.

"A holistic review of equity market structure, including these discussions about Securities Information Processor (SIP) governance and resilience, is warranted for the investors and traders we serve each day," he continued. "The strength of American capital markets in serving companies and investors is admired around the world, and we embrace discussions that will help us reinforce and grow these markets for generations to come."
