Additional Information and Where to Find It

In connection with the Business Combination, TPCO will file a preliminary and a definitive management information circular and proxy statement on Schedule 14A (the “Circular”) with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) containing important information about the Business Combination and related matters. Additionally, TPCO will file other relevant materials in connection with the Business Combination with applicable securities regulatory authorities. Investors and security holders of TPCO are urged to carefully read the entire definitive Circular (including any amendments or supplements to such document) when such document becomes available before making any voting decision with respect to the Business Combination because the definitive Circular will contain important information about the Business Combination and the parties to the Business Combination. The definitive Circular, when available, will be mailed to TPCO Shareholders, as well as be accessible on EDGAR and in TPCO’s profile on SEDAR.

Investors and security holders of TPCO will be able to obtain a free copy of the Circular, as well as other relevant filings containing information about TPCO and the Business Combination, without charge, at the SEC’s website (www.sec.gov) or from TPCO by going to TPCO’s Investor Relations page on its website at <https://ir.theparent.co/financials/sec-filings/default.aspx>.

U.S. Cannabis Disclaimer

The United States federal government regulates certain drugs through the Controlled Substances Act (the “CSA”) and through the Food, Drug & Cosmetic Act (“FDCA”). The CSA schedules controlled substances, including “marihuana” (defined as all parts of the plant Cannabis sativa L. containing more than 0.3 percent THC), based on their approved medical use and potential for abuse. Marihuana, also referred to as cannabis, is classified as a Schedule I controlled substance. The Drug Enforcement Administration (“DEA”), an agency of the U.S. Department of Justice, defines Schedule I drugs, substances or chemicals as “drugs with no currently accepted medical use and a high potential for abuse.” The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (the “FDA”), which implements and enforces the FDCA, regulates, among other things, drugs used for the diagnosis or treatment of diseases. The FDA has not approved cannabis as a safe and effective treatment for any medical condition. The FDA has approved drugs containing CBD, a component of the plant cannabis sativa L., for a narrow segment of medical conditions. State laws that permit and regulate the production, distribution and medical-use of cannabis or adult-(recreational) use of cannabis are in direct conflict with the CSA, which makes cannabis and THC distribution and possession federally illegal. Although certain states and territories of the U.S. authorize medical-use cannabis or adult-use cannabis production and distribution by licensed or registered entities, under U.S. federal law, the possession, cultivation, and transfer of cannabis, THC and any related drug paraphernalia is illegal and any such acts are criminal acts under any and all circumstances under the CSA. Although the resulting issuer’s activities are expected to be compliant with applicable United States state and local law, strict compliance with state and local laws with respect to cannabis does not absolve the resulting issuer of liability under United States federal law, nor does it provide a defense to any federal proceeding which may be brought against the resulting issuer.

INDUSTRY HEADWINDS CREATING OPPORTUNITY FOR SCALED OPERATORS

- The pathway to Federal regulatory reform remains uncertain.
- Despite bipartisan support, SAFE banking legislation is stalled.
- Investor sentiment and access to capital has broadly shifted after years of strong support, now favoring efficient, large-scale operators with positive operating cash flow.
- California wholesale cannabis pricing has been volatile due to oversupply, recently pricing has shown signs of improvement as license holders actively leave the market due to lack of sufficient access to capital.
- More demand for wholesale cannabis and the resulting price increases has led to higher costs on wholesale purchasing for CPG products, lowering profitability.

THE PARENT COMPANY x GOLD FLORA: OVERVIEW & NEXT STEPS

PROPOSED TRANSACTION

- The Business Combination will be completed, subject to the Business Combination Agreement, by way of a court-approved plan of arrangement under the Business Corporations Act (British Columbia) and a merger under the laws of the State of California, whereby a newly formed company, Gold Flora Corporation, will, directly or indirectly, acquire all of the issued and outstanding common shares of The Parent Company ("TPCO Shares") and all of the issued membership units in the capital of Gold Flora (the "Gold Flora Units") pursuant to an amalgamation and concurrent merger transaction. In connection with such transactions, Gold Flora Corporation will then domesticate in the United States as a Delaware corporation pursuant to Section 388 of the Delaware General Corporation Law.
- Following completion of the Business Combination, current holders of TPCO Shares will hold approximately 49% of Gold Flora Corporation and current holders of Gold Flora Units will hold approximately 51% of Gold Flora Corporation.

CONSIDERATION TO SHAREHOLDERS

- Under the terms of the Business Combination, holders of TPCO Shares will receive one share of common stock in the capital of Gold Flora Corporation for each TPCO Share held pursuant to the Merger Agreement and holders of Gold Flora Units will receive 1.5233 Gold Flora Corporation Shares for each Gold Flora Unit held pursuant to the Merger Agreement, resulting in the issuance of an aggregate of approximately 312,138,271 Gold Flora Corporation Shares. The Business Combination values Gold Flora at $1.50 per Gold Flora Unit and The Parent Company at $0.9847 per TPCO Share.

KEY APPROVALS & CONDITIONS

- In connection with the Business Combination, The Parent Company anticipates filing a proxy statement and management information circular (the "Circular") in connection with an annual general and special meeting of holders of TPCO Shares (the "Meeting") expected to be held in the second quarter of this year (unless the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission elects to review the preliminary Circular, in which case the Meeting is likely to be held in early in the third quarter of this year) to approve the Business Combination.

DEAL PROTECTION

- TPCO has entered into voting and support agreements with each of its directors and officers and certain shareholders holding an aggregate of approximately 11% of the issued and outstanding TPCO Shares, pursuant to which these parties have agreed, subject to certain rights of withdrawal, to vote in favor of the Business Combination and not to dispose of their TPCO Shares.
- Gold Flora has entered into voting and support agreements with each manager and the majority holder of its membership interests holding an aggregate of 75.9% of the issued and outstanding Gold Flora Units, pursuant to which these parties have agreed, subject to certain rights of withdrawal, to vote in favor of the Business Combination and not to dispose of their Gold Flora Units.
