

JENNAIR AMPLIFIES DESIGN FREEDOM AT KBIS: UNVEILS POLAR OPPOSITE KITCHEN DESIGNS AND DOUBLES-DOWN ON INDUCTION

2026-02-12

Luxury leader debuts the "No Kitchen Kitchen" alongside a bold, texture-rich design aesthetic, showing how appliances can be beautifully hidden or a bold centerpiece.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Feb. 12, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- JennAir® appliances, the luxury brand that defies the status quo, will have a presence at this year's 2026 Kitchen and Bath Industry Show (KBIS) in Orlando, Florida, exhibiting from February 17 - 19, 2026. You can find their experience in the Whirlpool Corporation Booth in West Hall (W701). Through an immersive experience, the JennAir® brand will showcase two kitchen designs—The Daring and The Ethereal—while also showcasing their latest in induction cooking innovation and launch of JennAir x Dekton panels.

Kerrie Kelly, NKBA 2026 National Board Chair and Designer is the mastermind behind the two kitchen designs in partnership with the JennAir brand. "For KBIS 2026, I wanted to show how JennAir products don't just support how we cook, but how we live." Kerrie Kelly says, "The kitchens were intentionally designed as a study in contrast—one celebrating appliances as expressive, statement-making elements, the other allowing them to recede quietly into the architecture—together showcasing JennAir brand's ability to support dramatically different design narratives. These spaces prove that innovation and individuality can coexist in a way that feels intentional, elevated, and deeply human."

The Daring Kitchen: The space immediately captures attention featuring the RISE™ 48" Induction Professional-Style Range with Chrome Infused Griddle, a commercial-style range with beautiful knobs showing you can get the look of gas with the precise performance of induction, accented against Grape Harvest, a bold color from Sherwin Williams. In addition, the JennAir® wine column features a stunning JennAir x Nature Squared panel bringing together beauty in addition to function. The wine column is engineered to protect wine by providing optimal temperature and humidity control, vibration-reducing technology, and advanced UV protection. "The Daring Kitchen was inspired by the idea that appliances can be loud and proud—designed as statement pieces that confidently anchor the space while harmonizing with rich color," Kerrie Kelly shares, "For this design, I chose expressive cabinetry, layered surfaces, and the unexpected luxury of Natured Squared Mussel Shell wine column paneling."

The Look: Rich, tactile, and unapologetically bold.

The Ethereal Kitchen: In stark contrast, a minimalist kitchen approach showcases JennAir® appliances complemented by Fabuwood Cabinetry. A highlight of this space is the new JennAir x Dekton custom refrigeration panel in Albarium which can be found on the 24" Undercounter Beverage Center. As visitors "reveal" the kitchen, they can discover the RISE™ 30" Single Wall Oven with V2™ Vertical Dual-Fan True Convection, a sous chef for any culinary level in the kitchen, as well as a 36" NextGen Downdraft Induction cooktop with a true flush installation and air vent recirculation option that can extract stale air at the source. "The Ethereal Kitchen was designed to embody the 'No Kitchen Kitchen' concept—quiet, graceful, and architectural—where integrated JennAir® appliances recede into a soft, calming composition of pale cabinetry, textural wallcoverings, and serene surfaces that allow the space to feel more like a living environment than a traditional kitchen," according to Kerrie Kelly.

The Look: Airy, seamless, and light.
