

NEWS RELEASE

VETERAN MAGAZINE FEATURES O&M TEAMMATE

6/5/2020

VETERAN TEAMMATE FEATURED IN VETREPRENEUR MAGAZINE

Brook Joanna Murphy became a Customer Support Specialist with Owens & Minor after serving in the Army for four years. The best part of her new career? According to Brook, it's "continuing to aid our military with their medical needs. It gives me great pride to help them and their dependents in any way I am able." Click here to read Brook's full Q&A about transitioning from the Army to a career at Owens & Minor on page 24 of Vetrepreneur Magazine.

Brook is not the only veteran who has found a fulfilling career with Owens & Minor. In the same issue, Vetrepreneur Magazine featured an overview of how O&M continues to look to military veterans to fill crucial roles—particularly as our nation navigates COVID-19. Chief Human Resources Officer Shana Neal and Board Member Lieutenant General Gwen Bingham weigh in on the unique expertise veterans bring to Owens & Minor. Click here to read more on page 22.