Vectrus Wins Position on $6.4 Billion AFCAP V Contract

4/30/2020

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 30, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- Vectrus Systems Corporation, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Vectrus, Inc. (NYSE: VEC), announced today that it was awarded a position on the Air Force Contract Augmentation Program (AFCAP V), which is a $6.4 billion indefinite-delivery/indefinite-quantity (IDIQ) contract vehicle.

"We are proud to have been selected to continue supporting the Air Force's worldwide contingency and humanitarian support requirements," said Chuck Prow, president and chief executive officer of Vectrus. "Vectrus was first awarded a position on the AFCAP contract in June 2015 and since that time we have won 13 task orders in multiple countries worth over $130 million, underscoring our ability to respond rapidly anywhere across the globe. We have placed significant emphasis on expanding our Air Force relationships and mission support and today, Vectrus is a trusted provider of facilities and logistics, information technology, network communications, operational technologies and converged solutions to the Air Force in 13 countries. We look forward to building on our track record of growth with this important client."

Vectrus was one of eight companies selected for a position on the not-to-exceed $6.4 billion worldwide contingency and humanitarian support contract. AFCAP V, provides contingency planning, deploying and training/equipping of forces; emergency and contingency construction; logistics/commodities and services. The location of performance is determined at the task order level and includes various locations worldwide. The work is expected to be completed by May 31, 2031.
