

EPAM Receives Preferred Supplier Status from Bosch Group

June 10, 2010 9:58 AM ET

Newtown, PA — June 10, 2010 — EPAM Systems, Inc., the leading software engineering and IT Outsourcing \(ITO\) provider in Central and Eastern Europe (CEE), announced today that it has been selected as a Preferred Supplier of the Bosch Group, an award in recognition and appreciation of EPAM's outstanding performance in custom software development and application support during the last 3 years.

EPAM has been a development partner to the Bosch Group since 2007, successfully delivering several critical software development projects, the latest achievement being a custom Supplier Relationship Management (SRM) system that replaced multiple legacy applications underpinning the business dealings with tens of thousands of global suppliers and also provides sophisticated SRM specific BI features to Bosch's executive leadership. The solution was developed and is continually enhanced and supported by EPAM's engineering teams led by business analysts and engagement management from EPAM Germany, together with engineering teams in Belarus and Russia that provide a balance of domain and process knowledge with technology and quality management skills.

"Any client award or recognition is an honor for the whole staff of EPAM. In this case, given the well-known, stringent levels of excellence and quality that the Bosch Group demands globally in all forms of engineering including software, our teams should be exceedingly proud to be recognized in the upper echelons of Bosch's supplier eco-system with this Preferred Supplier status," commented Karl Robb, President EU Operations, EVP EPAM Group. "EPAM's unmatched technology skills, extensive domain knowledge and excellence in distributed delivery of complex software solutions has resulted in a robust, flexible, high throughput, high-availability application that provides our client with significant process optimization and a competitive business edge."
