

Head of EPAM's Mobile Competency Center to Judge appAttack Competition at GMIC 2013

October 22, 2013 6:11 PM EDT

Newtown, PA - October 22, 2013 - EPAM Systems, Inc. (NYSE:EPAM), a leading provider of complex software engineering solutions and a leader in Central and Eastern European IT service delivery, announced that Yev Galper, Director of Technology Solutions and the company's Head of Mobile Competency Center, will join the panel judging the appAttack finalists at GMIC SV on October 22, 2013 in San Francisco, CA. GMIC SV has become Silicon Valley's largest mobile conference and expo focused on partnership, thought leadership, and game-changing insights.

As a mobile technology expert, Yev Galper leads EPAM's Mobile Competency Center which ensures the adoption as well as continuous improvement of best practices, knowledge and specialized tools used by the 600+ engineering professionals in EPAM that are currently involved in delivering Mobile Technology Solutions. EPAM's clients in the mobility space include Adidas, Coca-Cola, Thomson Reuters, Expedia, MTV, Castorama, Chevron and Viacom. Yev also develops and runs EPAM's programs for knowledge management and the development of engineering skills unique and specific to mobile solutions in a number of business areas such as B2C, Retail, Banking, Media Entertainment and Publishing as well as consumer-oriented apps and gaming. Yev will be joining other panelists from Tandem Capital, appsfire, Big Fish Games, Zillow, Flurry, and others to choose the top finalists out of the short-listed applicants.

"In the course of the past 7 years, EPAM has built hundreds of unique mobile applications both for consumers and enterprises. Innovation and creativity is what has enabled EPAM to succeed in Mobility," says Yev Galper. "I am thrilled to be on the panel of judges for the appAttack competition and leverage my experience to evaluate a number of great cutting-edge mobile solutions that are competing here."

The appAttack competition provides a global stage for innovative mobile non-game app developers who will compete for prizes and the chance to pitch in front of 1,500+ mobile entrepreneurs and executives on GMIC's Thought Leader Stage. Past winners include Blippar, Snappli, Syntellia, Translate Abroad, and Vilynx, while the top 20 featured companies from the USA, Japan, UK, Egypt and North Africa.

GMIC SV 2013 will take place on October 22-23 at the Moscone Center in San Francisco, CA. More information about the event can be found here: <http://sv.thegmic.com/>

appAttack provides a global stage for developers to showcase their latest and greatest mobile apps. We are calling all app developers around the world who have created fresh, innovative apps and would like to get more exposure to the rest of the global market. This year, we are extremely interested in bringing in all kinds of mobile, tablets, PC, TV, vehicle, wearable and other connected device apps.

appAttack will act like the offline, cross-platform app store where potential clients, fans, distributors, VCs, and media can discover some of the coolest apps.
