

EPAM Expands Digital Engagement Practice With Acquisition of NavigationArts

July 13, 2015 7:10 PM EDT

NEWTOWN, Pa., July 13, 2015 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- EPAM Systems, Inc. (NYSE:EPAM), a leading global provider of product development and software engineering solutions, announced today its acquisition of NavigationArts, a digital strategy and experience design firm. The acquisition will enhance EPAM's ability to provide digital consulting, architecture and content solutions to customers in North America and beyond.

Headquartered in McLean, VA, NavigationArts combines business and customer experience consulting with a strong content management systems practice to lead digital initiatives for marquee clients including Ernst & Young, Marriot International, General Dynamics, Time Warner Cable and Mary Kay Inc. With locations in New York, Boston and Philadelphia, NavigationArts has a strong northeast regional presence.

"Experience platforms have become the backbone of our customers' multi-channel engagement strategies" said Arkadiy Dobkin, EPAM CEO and President. "The expertise of NavigationArts in architecting and deploying Adobe, Sitecore and Drupal-based solutions, combined with their proven ability to act as a strategic advisor to Fortune 500 clients, makes them an exciting addition to our fast-growing Digital Engagement practice."

"While NavigationArts has been very successful helping our clients transform in the face of digital disruption," commented Leo Mullen, CEO and co-founder of NavigationArts, "we always knew we could provide more value if we were part of a larger entity. Joining EPAM allows us to offer a much broader array of services and solve even more complex and technically sophisticated challenges that face our clients."
