

EPAM Launches German Website to Support Central European Market Expansion

February 1, 2016 5:00 PM EST

NEWTOWN, Pa., Feb. 01, 2016 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- EPAM Systems (NYSE:EPAM), a leading global provider of product development and software engineering solutions, announced today the launch of the company's new German-language website. The site, designed to provide valuable information to German-speaking clients and current and prospective employees, features the latest localized company news, ideas and career content. Over the past several years, EPAM has doubled its market presence and delivery capabilities in Germany and Austria. The addition of this website also offers EPAM the opportunity to enhance the engagement experience for German-speaking audiences.

"I am excited to launch our new website and to continue to find ways to better serve our German customers with our industry-leading solutions," said Bjoern Brauel, SVP, Co-Head European Business. "As we expand our capabilities in the region, it's important that existing and prospective clients and employees understand what we have to offer and what local delivery options are available. It's one more step in our commitment to grow in this market."

The local-language website includes the most up-to-date industry information and insights into EPAM's knowledge and expertise in the software product and platform development space. Other website features include:

- Industry- and solution-specific case studies and white papers
- Industry insights from the most influential research and advisory firms
- EPAM news and events, including a schedule of global events
- Career site with access to global EPAM job opportunities
