Consistent NIM performance aided by peer-leading loan yield

GENERATING Consistent Sustainable Long-term Performance

Net Interest Margin vs. Peers[1]

Loan Yield vs. Peers[1]

- Regions consistently produces above peer median net interest margin, and at YE the percentage of cash to total assets for Regions was almost 2x the peer median providing further upside.
- Forward starting hedging strategy put in place beginning in 2018 contributed to Regions' net interest margin being near the top of our peer group in 2020 and 2021.
- Supported by hedging strategy, loan yield has improved from slightly below peer median to #1 in the peer group in 2021.

NII & margin performance

GENERATING Consistent Sustainable Long-term Performance

NII and NIM[(1)]

($ in millions)

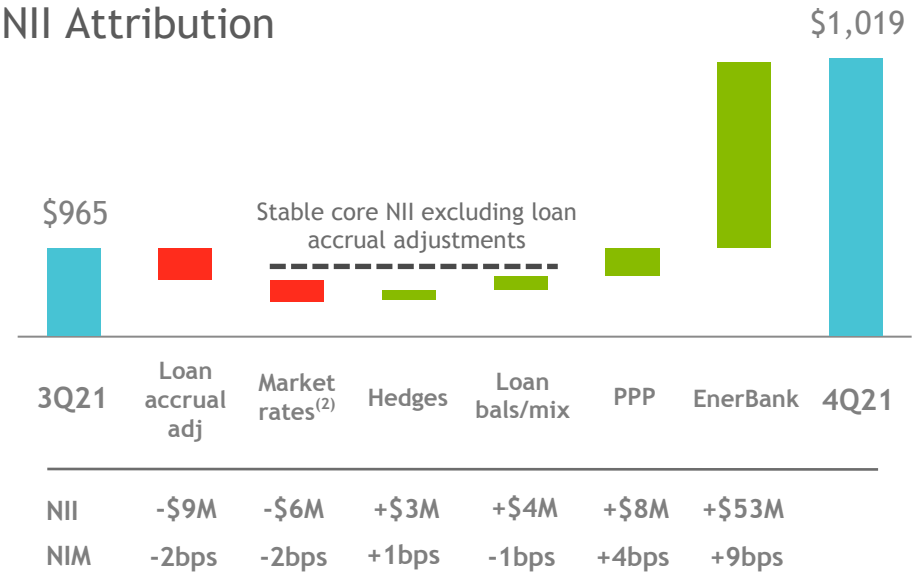

- In 4Q, deposit and cash balances remained elevated.
- PPP and cash account for -51 bps NIM and $42M NII within the quarter (+3 bps / +$8M QoQ)
  - PPP loans account for +9 bps NIM and $39M NII within the quarter (+4 bps / +$8M QoQ)
  - Excess cash accounts for -60 bps NIM and $3M NII (-1 bps / $0M QoQ)
- Total of ~$15.5B deployed through active balance sheet management (including securities purchases and borrowings reductions) since pandemic began, balancing risk and return.
- 18% cash-to-earning asset ratio positioned well for rising rate environment.

(1) Net interest income (NII) and net interest margin (NIM) are reflected on a fully taxable-equivalent basis. (2) Non-GAAP; see appendix for reconciliation.

NII & margin - core drivers

GENERATING Consistent Sustainable Long-term Performance

NII Attribution

NII	-$9M	-$6M	+$3M	+$4M	+$8M	+$53M
NIM	-2bps	-2bps	+1bps	-1bps	+4bps	+9bps

Drivers of NII and NIM

- Adjusted loan(1) growth excl. EnerBank in 4Q21 of +~$1.3B average and +~$2.4B ending
- Rate environment impacts continue to be offset through active balance sheet management
  - Hedging benefit of $112M NII in 4Q(3)
  - Lower deposit pricing; 4Q deposit cost = 4bps / interest-bearing deposit cost = 7bps
- Negative non-recurring accrual adjustments include outsized credit interest recovery in 3Q and a lease adjustment in 4Q

Expectations for 1Q22 and Beyond

- Linked-quarter NII expected to grow modestly in 1Q22 excluding reduced PPP contributions
  - Environment conducive for continued loan growth
  - Stability from rate environment; fixed rate loan production and securities reinvestment yields neutral to runoff
  - 2 fewer days reduce NII ~1%
  - 89% of PPP loan fees have been forgiven; expect 1Q22 PPP NII contribution to be in the $8M-$12M range
- Excluding PPP/cash, adjusted NIM(1) expected to increase into the upper-3.30%s
- Longer-term NII growth from organic and strategic asset growth; positioned to benefit from rising market rates

(1) Adj. NIM excludes PPP and excess cash over $750M. Adjusted NIM, and adjusted loans are non-GAAP; see appendix for reconciliations. (2) Market rate impacts include contractual loan, cash, and borrowings repricing; fixed asset turnover at lower market rates; and lower deposit yields. (3) QoQ increase in hedge NII from repositioning transactions; hedges mostly remain active; ~$1.5B total return, $686M NII accrual since beginning of 2020, $830M unrealized pre-tax gain, to be amortized into NII over the remaining life of hedges.

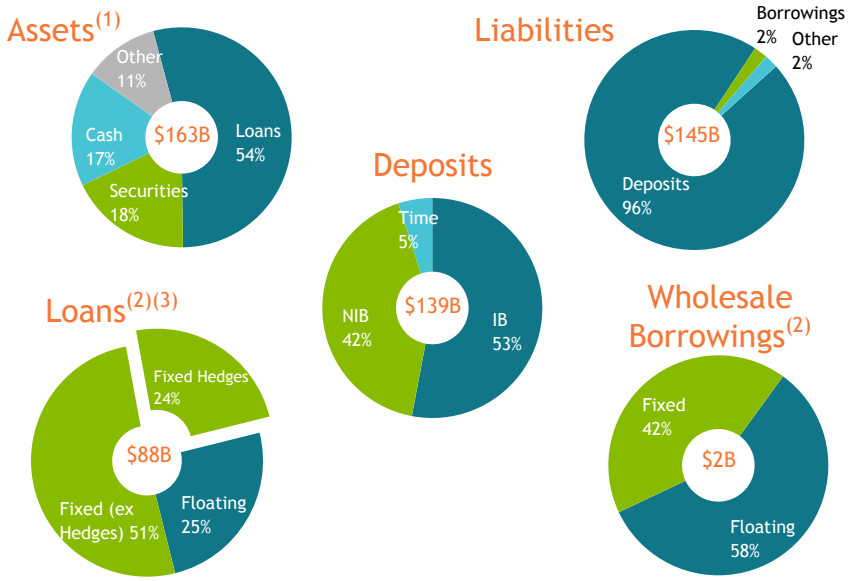

Balance sheet profile

(as of December 31, 2021)

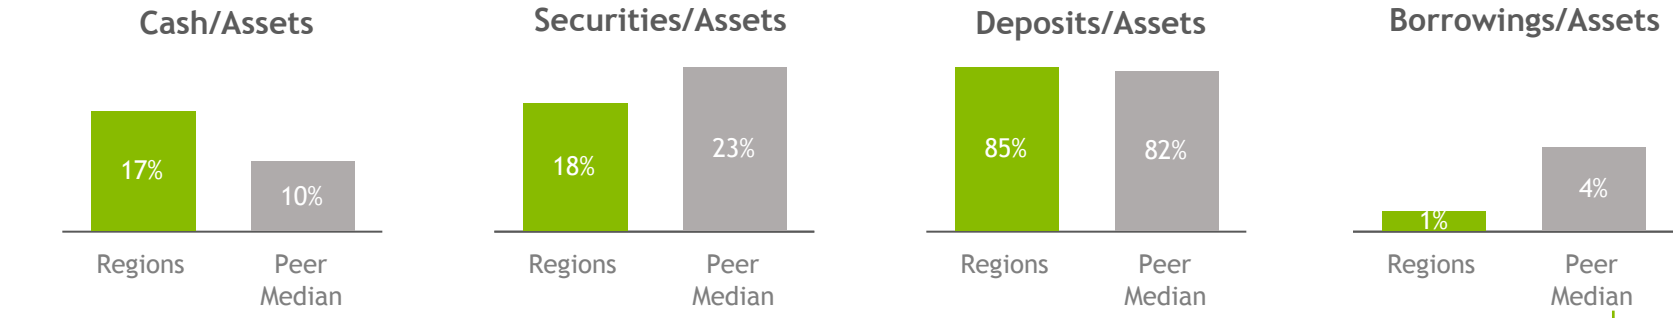

GENERATING Consistent Sustainable Long-term Performance

- Balance sheet position naturally benefits from higher interest rates (i.e. asset sensitive), supported by:
  - large floating rate loan and cash mix
  - large, stable deposit base and low reliance on wholesale borrowings
- Stability of deposit funding evidenced over time
  - High concentration of non-interest bearing (42% vs. peer median 35%)
  - Regions' rising rate deposit betas have outperformed the industry (e.g. RF 29%, Peer Median 35% 3Q15-2Q19)
- Have retained elevated cash balances to maximize flexibility and rate benefit
  - Support profitable loan/securities growth
  - Allow for potential surge runoff
  - No wholesale bank funding needs expected in coming years

Portfolio Compositions

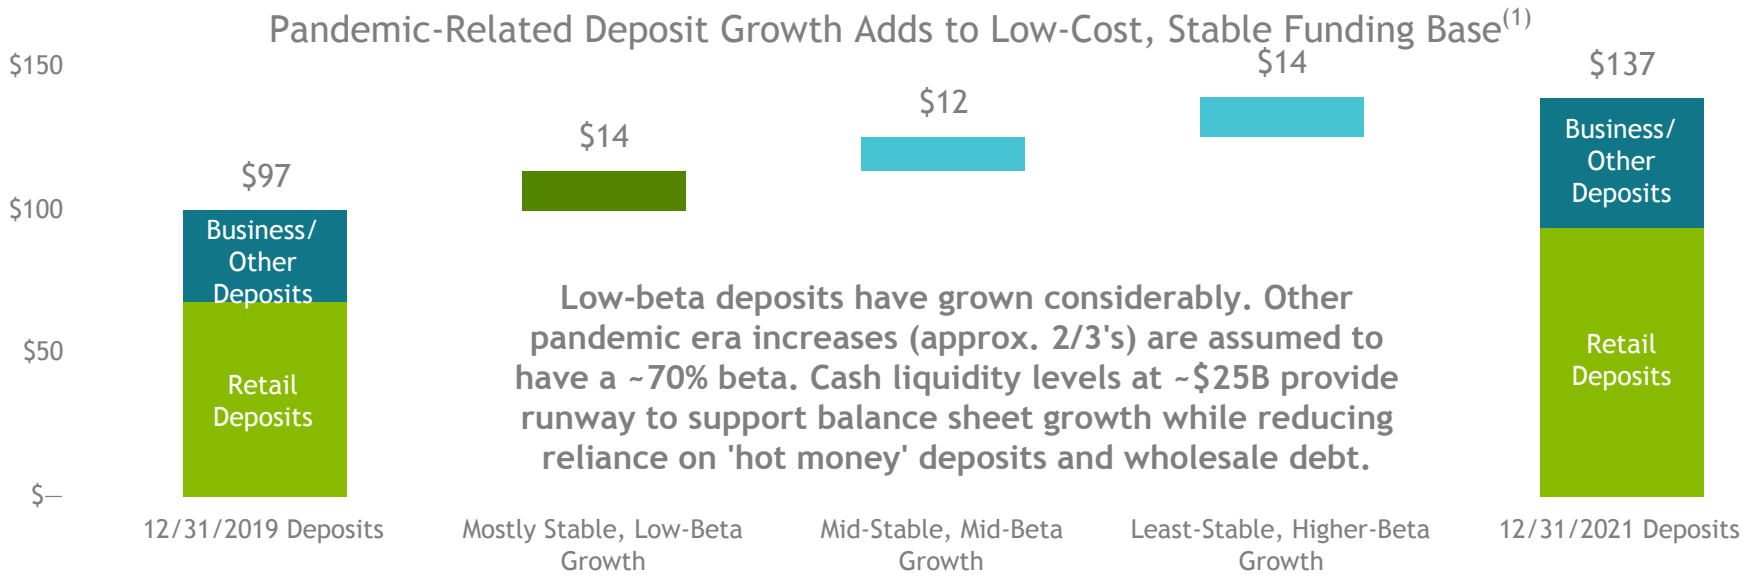

Industry Comparison(4)

(1) Securities includes AFS, the unrealized AFS gain, and HTM securities; cash represents interest-bearing deposits held with the Federal Reserve. (2) Including spot starting balance sheet hedges as of 12/31/21. (3) ARM mortgage loans are included as floating rate loans. (4) Ending balances as of 12/31; Peers include CFG, CMA, FHN, FITB, HBAN, HWC, KEY, MTB, PNC, SNV, TFC, USB, ZION.

Deposit surge and beta

GENERATING Consistent Sustainable Long-term Performance

Mostly Stable, Low-Beta

- Comprised of new consumer customers, consumer customers who did not receive stimulus and growth in historically stable products such as savings.
- ~$14B; 36% of growth
- Considerable growth in consumer balances that had low betas in 2016-2019 cycle. Expect similar behavior to pre-pandemic portfolio, with a beta ~10% for the first 100 bps Fed increase and 30% through the cycle.

Surge: Mid-Stable, Mid-Beta

- Comprised mostly of small business accounts, stimulus-receiving customers(2), & wealth clients.
- Balances continued to grow throughout 2021, though rate of growth has recently moderated.
- ~$12B; 31% of growth
- Expected beta of 40-60%

Surge: Least-Stable, Higher-Beta

- Comprised largely by Corporate/Commercial clients. The expectation is that some of these clients will seek alternative investments as rates rise, and/or will seek higher deposit rates.
- ~$14B; 33% of growth
- Expected beta of 80-100%

(1) $ In Billions. Figures exclude EnerBank acquired deposits. (2) Received via Direct Deposit

Asset sensitive balance sheet

Well positioned for rising short-term and/or long-term interest rates

GENERATING Consistent Sustainable Long-term Performance

Short-term Rate Sensitivity Drivers

25bps rate hike adds +$60-80M of NII over 12 months

- ~50% floating rate loans excl. hedges
- Hedge maturities beginning in 3Q22
  - Recent decisions to shorten our hedge protection allows our sensitivity levels to increase throughout 2022
- Large stable deposit funding base and historically low betas
  - Stable deposit portfolio has grown by ~$14B over the pandemic
  - 2/3 of pandemic growth likely more rate sensitive (~70% beta)
- Large cash balance well positioned as rates rise

Long-term Rate Sensitivity Drivers

- ~$17B annual fixed rate loan production and securities reinvestment; mostly exposed to middle tenor[1] rates
- Reduced premium amortization from lower prepay speeds

Begin cycle more sensitive than the last, and will benefit from hedge maturities and potential for deposit outperformance

Net Floating-Rate Exposure[2]

Stable Sensitivity Outlook	+	Hedge notional declines over 2022 will offset
	—	Rising deposit betas/outflows and lower cash
Opportunity	+	Upside if surge deposits less responsive than assumed

(1) ~70% fixed rate production has life of 5 years or less. (2) $ in Billions. Reflects net exposure of contractual floating rate assets and liabilities, active hedge notional over following 12-months, and expected deposit repricing betas and runoff.

Adjusted[(1)] NIM as Rates Rise

GENERATING Consistent Sustainable Long-term Performance

Adjusted[(1)] NIM Range by Rate Level

Assumptions

As rates increase to more normal levels, Regions' NIM will naturally expand over the coming years

Mid-point assumes:

- Expected balance sheet growth consistent with 4%-5% average loan growth
- Deposit betas on stable balances consistent with the prior rate cycle; Surge deposit beta repricing/runoff of ~70%
- Modest steepness in the yield curve with long-term rates remaining 25bps over Fed Funds over time

Range assumes:

- Upper-end: Lower deposit beta and steeper yield curve
- Lower-end: Higher deposit beta and flat to inverted yield curve

Opportunities:

- Outperformance in surge deposit repricing/ retention
- No incremental securities additions included; potential additions could impact specific periods

(1) Adj. NIM excludes PPP and excess cash over $750M. Adjusted NIM is non-GAAP; see appendix for historical reconciliations.

Future NII drivers

GENERATING Consistent Sustainable Long-term Performance

NII is positioned to benefit from higher rates, as well as natural loan growth and strategic investments. Hedge proceeds (~$1.5B total return) and the capital generated have been invested into strategically important businesses, such as Ascentium and EnerBank.

NII Drivers - Current Support

Hedge Income
Hedges protected NII in declining rates and will continue to support NII if rates are lower for longer

PPP
PPP supported earnings through the Pandemic but will subside after 2021

NII Drivers - Future Growth

EnerBank
The EnerBank acquisition closed in 4Q 2021, with additional growth opportunities expected

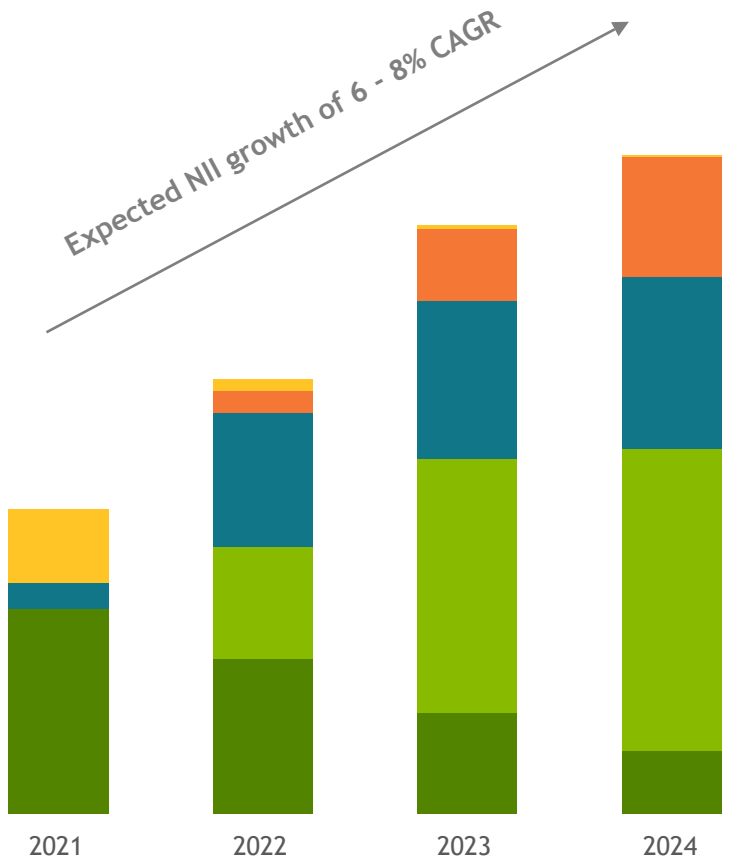

Organic Growth
Regions is well positioned to grow loans as the economic recovery continues

Forward Rates
Regions' asset sensitive position will benefit meaningfully with the potential for higher rates and a steeper yield curve

NII Drivers - Additional Opportunity

While not included in the outlook, opportunities exist if surge deposits are retained with lower betas (assume 70% through-the-cycle deposit beta), or if excess cash is able to be deployed into loans/securities

Relative Impact of Future NII Drivers(1)

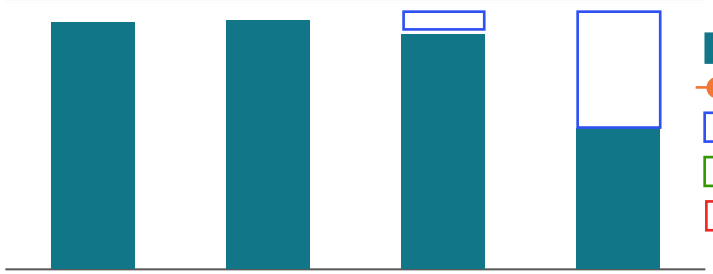

(1) Based on market forward rate projections as of 1/31/2022: 2021: Avg 1m LIBOR 10bps, Avg 10yr UST 1.44%; 2022: Avg 1m LIBOR 0.78%, Avg 10yr UST 1.89%; 2023: Avg 1m LIBOR 1.61%, Avg 10yr UST 2.07%; 2024: Avg 1m LIBOR 1.77%, Avg 10yr UST 2.21%.

1mo. LIBOR[5]	0.46%	1.19%	1.47%	1.49%	1.49%

Cash-flow Hedge Contribution to NII - 3Q21

- The balance sheet hedging program has performed as designed, limiting NII and NIM downside under a low rate environment
  - Gains on terminated hedges deferred and amortized over the life of the initial contract, locking in the benefit to NII in future periods; total return of ~$1.5B, including a $830M unrealized gain and +$686M of realized NII since beginning of 2020 (~90% of expected total return realized or locked-in via swap repositioning/terminations)
- Recent repositioning and resulting maturity profile well positioned for rising short-term rates in late-2022 and beyond, including the addition of EnerBank, which is mostly comprised of fixed rate loans
- 4Q21 repositioning trades include: 1) closure of the entire $3.5B floor position to lock in time value and replacement with similar maturity swaps to maintain sensitivity position; 2) $9B reduction of forward net[1] swap exposure covering 4Q22

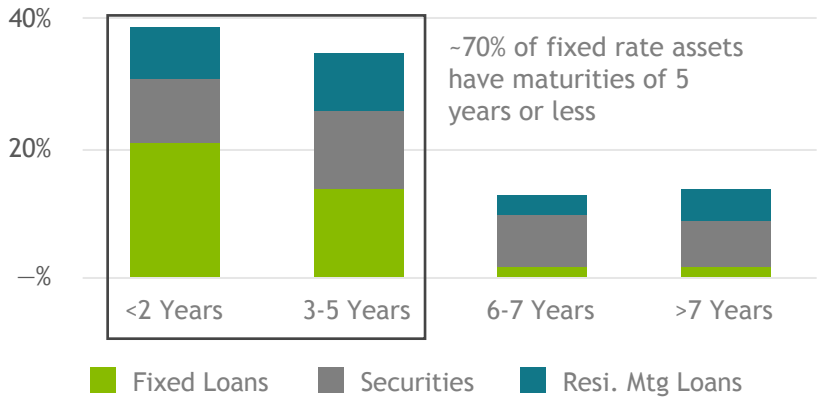

(1) Net receive hedge notional reflects receive-fixed hedges minus pay-fixed hedges. (2) Includes all active swaps/floors entered into prior to 12/31/2021. (3) Includes YTD 2021 total hedge repositioning of $20.3B, reducing average annual notional by -$2.25B in 2022, -$10.3B in 2023 and -$9.0B in 2024. (4) Includes $1.25B of swap unwinds to offset securities additions in 2Q21. (5) 12/31/2021 market implied forwards, annual average. (6) Peers 5, 6, 8, 9, 11 did not disclose weighted average lives of cash flow hedge.

Interest rate exposure of future business to middle/long-term rates

GENERATING Consistent Sustainable Long-term Performance

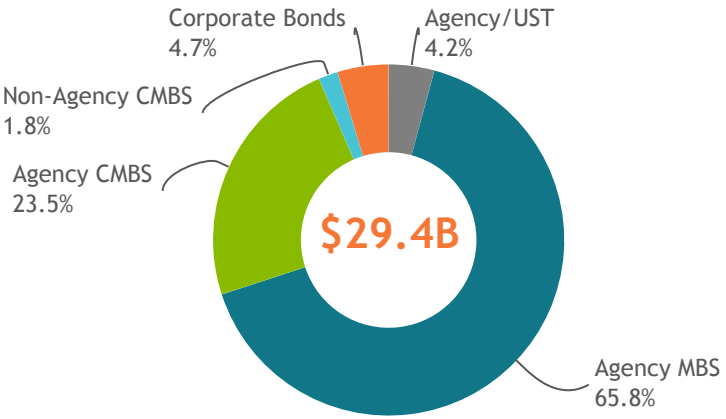

- NII benefits from higher middle and long-term rates through future fixed-rate asset production and cash-flow reinvestment; full-year 2022 estimate:
  - ~$12B fixed-rate loan production (excl. EnerBank)
  - ~$5B fixed-rate securities reinvestment
- Normal fixed-rate asset production expected to be accretive in the first quarter when compared to going-off yields
- Regions' exposure is more closely tied to the middle of the yield curve and mortgage rates; ~70% of production at the 5-year tenor point or shorter

Fixed Asset Production - Maturity Buckets(1)

- Securities portfolio reinvestment and premium amortization contribute to Regions' NII exposure to interest rates
- Portfolio constructed to protect against changes in market rates
  - ~34% of securities portfolio in bullet-like collateral (CMBS, corporate bonds, and USTs)
  - Purchase MBS with loan characteristics that offer prepayment protection: lower loan balances, seasoning, and state-specific geographic concentrations
- Continue to reinvest monthly paydowns; remain patient on further cash deployment into the securities portfolio at current market valuations and yields
- MBS-related book premium $573M as of 12/31/2021; higher market interest rates and prepayment protection should reduce amortization volatility

Securities portfolio composition(2)

(1) Includes both scheduled and unscheduled maturities for fixed assets produced over the past year excl. PPP. (2) Includes AFS, the unrealized AFS gain, and HTM securities as of 12/31/2021.

LIBOR Transition

Readiness & the Path Forward

GENERATING Consistent Sustainable Long-term Performance

Highlights

Dec 31, 2021

Last Day Regions Originated LIBOR loans

Daily SOFR
Term SOFR
BSBY
AMERIBOR

Alternative Rate Offerings at Regions

Moving to Next Phase of Transition

As of January 1, 2022 Regions is no longer originating LIBOR loans. Regions has taken steps both systematically and through training to ensure that no new LIBOR loans are added to the balance sheet in accordance with guidance from Federal Regulators. Focus now turns to remediation of existing LIBOR loans and derivatives. Transitioning away from LIBOR will happen in two ways:

Fallback

- After June 30, 2023 Regions will implement the fallback language in existing LIBOR contracts
- Regions has reviewed all LIBOR contracts and categorized fallback
- Regions will communicate with customers prior to fallback to ensure they are aware of the pending index changes

Amendment

- Some contracts will be amended prior to cessation to change the index
- Contracts might be amended based on fallback language requirements or on customer desire
- Regions will ensure that amended contracts that fall within guidance will be identified for tax/accounting relief for LIBOR transition

Financial Considerations & Potential Impact

- Balance Sheet/ Earnings Performance
- Accounting/Tax
- Balance Sheet Hedges/ Client Derivatives
- Loan Pricing
- Commercial/ Consumer Preference

- Balance Sheet Hedges: Developments on hedge accounting are being closely monitored.
- Market Activity: Derivatives markets have slowly begun to adopt SOFR, and markets for BSBY/AMERIBOR remain limited.
- Asset/Liability Management: While Regions controls the transition of certain portions of the balance sheet (e.g., bilateral loans), others will be driven by market dynamics (e.g., debt, securities).
- Loan Pricing: Pricing of alternatives continues to evolve, especially SOFR Credit Spread Adjustments.
- Tax Implications: Some uncertainty remains on safe harbors for tax treatment.

NM - Not Meaningful

Non-GAAP information

Management uses pre-tax pre-provision income (non-GAAP) and adjusted pre-tax pre-provision income (non-GAAP), as well as the adjusted efficiency ratio (non-GAAP) and the adjusted fee income ratio (non-GAAP) to monitor performance and believes these measures provide meaningful information to investors. Non-interest expense (GAAP) is presented excluding certain adjustments to arrive at adjusted non-interest expense (non-GAAP), which is the numerator for the efficiency ratio. Non-interest income (GAAP) is presented excluding certain adjustments to arrive at adjusted non-interest income (non-GAAP), which is the numerator for the fee income ratio. Adjusted non-interest income (non-GAAP) and adjusted non-interest expense (non-GAAP) are used to determine adjusted pre-tax pre-provision income (non-GAAP). Net interest income (GAAP) on a taxable-equivalent basis and non-interest income are added together to arrive at total revenue on a taxable-equivalent basis. Adjustments are made to arrive at adjusted total revenue on a taxable-equivalent basis (non-GAAP), which is the denominator for the fee income and efficiency ratios. Regions believes that the exclusion of these adjustments provides a meaningful base for period-to-period comparisons, which management believes will assist investors in analyzing the operating results of the Company and predicting future performance. These non-GAAP financial measures are also used by management to assess the performance of Regions' business. It is possible that the activities related to the adjustments may recur; however, management does not consider the activities related to the adjustments to be indications of ongoing operations. Regions believes that presentation of these non-GAAP financial measures will permit investors to assess the performance of the Company on the same basis as that applied by management.

The allowance for credit losses (ACL) as a percentage of total loans is an important ratio, especially during periods of economic stress. Management believes this ratio provides investors with meaningful additional information about credit loss allowance levels when the impact of SBA's Paycheck Protection Program loans, which are fully backed by the U.S. government, and any related allowance are excluded from total loans and total allowance which are the denominator and numerator, respectively, used in the ACL ratio. This adjusted ACL ratio represents a non-GAAP financial measure.

Tangible common stockholders' equity ratios have become a focus of some investors and management believes they may assist investors in analyzing the capital position of the Company absent the effects of intangible assets and preferred stock. Analysts and banking regulators have assessed Regions' capital adequacy using the tangible common stockholders' equity measure. Because tangible common stockholders' equity is not formally defined by GAAP or prescribed in any amount by federal banking regulations it is currently considered to be a non-GAAP financial measure and other entities may calculate it differently than Regions' disclosed calculations. Since analysts and banking regulators may assess Regions' capital adequacy using tangible common stockholders' equity, management believes that it is useful to provide investors the ability to assess Regions' capital adequacy on this same basis.

Non-GAAP financial measures have inherent limitations, are not required to be uniformly applied and are not audited. Although these non-GAAP financial measures are frequently used by stakeholders in the evaluation of a company, they have limitations as analytical tools, and should not be considered in isolation, or as a substitute for analyses of results as reported under GAAP. In particular, a measure of earnings that excludes selected items does not represent the amount that effectively accrues directly to stockholders.

Management and the Board of Directors utilize non-GAAP measures as follows:

- Preparation of Regions' operating budgets
- Monthly financial performance reporting
- Monthly close-out reporting of consolidated results (management only)
- Presentation to investors of company performance
- Metrics for incentive compensation

Forward-looking statements

Forward-Looking Statements

This presentation may include forward-looking statements as defined in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements are not based on historical information, but rather are related to future operations, strategies, financial results or other developments. Forward-looking statements are based on management's current expectations as well as certain assumptions and estimates made by, and information available to, management at the time the statements are made. Those statements are based on general assumptions and are subject to various risks, and because they also relate to the future they are likewise subject to inherent uncertainties and other factors that may cause actual results to differ materially from the views, beliefs and projections expressed in such statements. Therefore, we caution you against relying on any of these forward-looking statements. These risks, uncertainties and other factors include, but are not limited to, those described below:

- Current and future economic and market conditions in the United States generally or in the communities we serve (in particular the Southeastern United States), including the effects of possible declines in property values, increases in unemployment rates, financial market disruptions and potential reductions of economic growth, which may adversely affect our lending and other businesses and our financial results and conditions.
- Possible changes in trade, monetary and fiscal policies of, and other activities undertaken by, governments, agencies, central banks and similar organizations, which could have a material adverse effect on our earnings.
- Possible changes in market interest rates or capital markets could adversely affect our revenue and expense, the value of assets and obligations, and the availability and cost of capital and liquidity.
- The impact of pandemics, including the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, on our businesses, operations, and financial results and conditions. The duration and severity of any pandemic, including the COVID-19 pandemic, could disrupt the global economy, adversely affect our capital and liquidity position, impair the ability of borrowers to repay outstanding loans and increase our allowance for credit losses, impair collateral values, and result in lost revenue or additional expenses.
- Any impairment of our goodwill or other intangibles, any repricing of assets, or any adjustment of valuation allowances on our deferred tax assets due to changes in tax law, adverse changes in the economic environment, declining operations of the reporting unit or other factors.
- The effect of new tax legislation and/or interpretation of existing tax law, which may impact our earnings, capital ratios, and our ability to return capital to shareholders.
- Possible changes in the creditworthiness of customers and the possible impairment of the collectability of loans and leases, including operating leases.
- Changes in the speed of loan prepayments, loan origination and sale volumes, charge-offs, credit loss provisions or actual credit losses where our allowance for credit losses may not be adequate to cover our eventual losses.
- Possible acceleration of prepayments on mortgage-backed securities due to low interest rates, and the related acceleration of premium amortization on those securities.
- Loss of customer checking and savings account deposits as customers pursue other, higher-yield investments, which could increase our funding costs.
- Possible changes in consumer and business spending and saving habits and the related effect on our ability to increase assets and to attract deposits, which could adversely affect our net income.
- Our ability to effectively compete with other traditional and non-traditional financial services companies, including fintechs, some of whom possess greater financial resources than we do or are subject to different regulatory standards than we are.
- Our inability to develop and gain acceptance from current and prospective customers for new products and services and the enhancement of existing products and services to meet customers' needs and respond to emerging technological trends in a timely manner could have a negative impact on our revenue.
- Our inability to keep pace with technological changes, including those related to the offering of digital banking and financial services, could result in losing business to competitors.
- Changes in laws and regulations affecting our businesses, including legislation and regulations relating to bank products and services, as well as changes in the enforcement and interpretation of such laws and regulations by applicable governmental and self-regulatory agencies, including as a result of the changes in U.S. presidential administration, control of the U.S. Congress, and changes in personnel at the bank regulatory agencies, which could require us to change certain business practices, increase compliance risk, reduce our revenue, impose additional costs on us, or otherwise negatively affect our businesses.
- Our capital actions, including dividend payments, common stock repurchases, or redemptions of preferred stock, must not cause us to fall below minimum capital ratio requirements, with applicable buffers taken into account, and must comply with other requirements and restrictions under law or imposed by our regulators, which may impact our ability to return capital to shareholders.

- Our ability to comply with stress testing and capital planning requirements (as part of the CCAR process or otherwise) may continue to require a significant investment of our managerial resources due to the importance of such tests and requirements.
- Our ability to comply with applicable capital and liquidity requirements (including, among other things, the Basel III capital standards), including our ability to generate capital internally or raise capital on favorable terms, and if we fail to meet requirements, our financial condition and market perceptions of us could be negatively impacted.
- The effects of any developments, changes or actions relating to any litigation or regulatory proceedings brought against us or any of our subsidiaries.
- The costs, including possibly incurring fines, penalties, or other negative effects (including reputational harm) of any adverse judicial, administrative, or arbitral rulings or proceedings, regulatory enforcement actions, or other legal actions to which we or any of our subsidiaries are a party, and which may adversely affect our results.
- Our ability to manage fluctuations in the value of assets and liabilities and off-balance sheet exposure so as to maintain sufficient capital and liquidity to support our businesses.
- Our ability to execute on our strategic and operational plans, including our ability to fully realize the financial and nonfinancial benefits relating to our strategic initiatives.
- The risks and uncertainties related to our acquisition or divestiture of businesses, including our recently completed acquisitions of EnerBank, Sabal, and Clearsight, and risks related to such acquisitions, including that the expected synergies, cost savings and other financial or other benefits may not be realized within the expected timeframes, or might be less than projected; difficulties in integrating the businesses; and the inability of Regions to effectively cross-sell products following these acquisitions.
- The success of our marketing efforts in attracting and retaining customers.
- Our ability to recruit and retain talented and experienced personnel to assist in the development, management and operation of our products and services may be affected by changes in laws and regulations in effect from time to time.
- Fraud or misconduct by our customers, employees or business partners.
- Any inaccurate or incomplete information provided to us by our customers or counterparties.
- Inability of our framework to manage risks associated with our businesses, such as credit risk and operational risk, including third-party vendors and other service providers, which could, among other things, result in a breach of operating or security systems as a result of a cyber attack or similar act or failure to deliver our services effectively.
- Dependence on key suppliers or vendors to obtain equipment and other supplies for our businesses on acceptable terms.
- The inability of our internal controls and procedures to prevent, detect or mitigate any material errors or fraudulent acts.
- The effects of geopolitical instability, including wars, conflicts, civil unrest, and terrorist attacks and the potential impact, directly or indirectly, on our businesses.
- The effects of man-made and natural disasters, including fires, floods, droughts, tornadoes, hurricanes, and environmental damage (specifically in the Southeastern United States), which may negatively affect our operations and/or our loan portfolios and increase our cost of conducting business. The severity and frequency of future earthquakes, fires, hurricanes, tornadoes, droughts, floods and other weather-related events are difficult to predict and may be exacerbated by global climate change.
- Changes in commodity market prices and conditions could adversely affect the cash flows of our borrowers operating in industries that are impacted by changes in commodity prices (including businesses indirectly impacted by commodities prices such as businesses that transport commodities or manufacture equipment used in the production of commodities), which could impair their ability to service any loans outstanding to them and/or reduce demand for loans in those industries.
- Our ability to identify and address cyber-security risks such as data security breaches, malware, ransomware, “denial of service” attacks, “hacking” and identity theft, including account take-overs, a failure of which could disrupt our businesses and result in the disclosure of and/or misuse or misappropriation of confidential or proprietary information, disruption or damage to our systems, increased costs, losses, or adverse effects to our reputation.
- Our ability to achieve our expense management initiatives.

- Market replacement of LIBOR and the related effect on our LIBOR-based financial products and contracts, including, but not limited to, derivative products, debt obligations, deposits, investments, and loans.
- Possible downgrades in our credit ratings or outlook could, among other negative impacts, increase the costs of funding from capital markets.
- The effects of problems encountered by other financial institutions that adversely affect us or the banking industry generally could require us to change certain business practices, reduce our revenue, impose additional costs on us, or otherwise negatively affect our businesses.
- The effects of the failure of any component of our business infrastructure provided by a third party could disrupt our businesses, result in the disclosure of and/or misuse of confidential information or proprietary information, increase our costs, negatively affect our reputation, and cause losses.
- Our ability to receive dividends from our subsidiaries, in particular Regions Bank, could affect our liquidity and ability to pay dividends to shareholders.
- Changes in accounting policies or procedures as may be required by the FASB or other regulatory agencies could materially affect our financial statements and how we report those results, and expectations and preliminary analyses relating to how such changes will affect our financial results could prove incorrect.
- Fluctuations in the price of our common stock and inability to complete stock repurchases in the time frame and/or on the terms anticipated.
- The effects of any damage to our reputation resulting from developments related to any of the items identified above.
- Other risks identified from time to time in reports that we file with the SEC.

The foregoing list of factors is not exhaustive. For discussion of these and other factors that may cause actual results to differ from expectations, look under the captions “Forward-Looking Statements” and “Risk Factors” of Regions’ Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2020 and the "Risk Factors" of Regions' Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2021 as filed with the SEC.

Forward-looking statements are subject to the risk that the actual effects may differ, possibly materially, from what is reflected in those forward-looking statements due to factors and future developments that are uncertain, unpredictable and in many cases beyond our control, including the scope and duration of the COVID-19 pandemic (including the impact of additional variants and resurgences), the effectiveness, availability and acceptance of any vaccines or therapies, and the direct and indirect impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on our customers, third parties and us.

The words “future,” “anticipates,” “assumes,” “intends,” “plans,” “seeks,” “believes,” “predicts,” “potential,” “objectives,” “estimates,” “expects,” “targets,” “projects,” “outlook,” “forecast,” “would,” “will,” “may,” “might,” “could,” “should,” “can,” and similar terms and expressions often signify forward-looking statements. You should not place undue reliance on any forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date made. Factors or events that could cause our actual results to differ may emerge from time to time, and it is not possible to predict all of them. We assume no obligation and do not intend to update or revise any forward-looking statements that are made from time to time, either as a result of future developments, new information or otherwise, except as may be required by law.
