LGBTQ+ Streaming Network to Use Matchpoint Dispatch for Automated Content Delivery

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- Cineverse (Nasdaq: CNVS), a next-generation entertainment studio, has formed a new commercial relationship with Revry, the world's first LGBTQ+ streaming network, to use Cineverse's automated media supply chain platform, Matchpoint™.

The award-winning Matchpoint™ is radically changing the way content is managed and delivered. Built on a foundation of automation, AI and machine learning, Matchpoint has replaced today's expensive, labor-intensive video content processes with a fully transparent, automated workflow that significantly reduces costs, eliminates human error, and effortlessly facilitates content ingestion with delivery across more than 135 platforms and distribution models.

Through this partnership, Revry is using Matchpoint 'Dispatch' for automated content management and delivery featuring intelligent QC and AI-driven metadata enrichment. Dispatch can ingest, validate, prep, and package thousands of assets for delivery to hundreds of platforms with a few clicks. It manages 116K+ concurrent streams each day, saving 121K+ hours of operational efficiency per month, helping customers potentially reach a global audience of more than one billion.

"With Matchpoint Dispatch, Revry can now automate and standardize critical workflows, improving accuracy, reducing costs, speeding up deliveries and empowering their team to focus on strategic execution," said Matchpoint General Manager and Cineverse EVP Technology, Michele Edelman.

"At Revry, we're always looking for ways to reach more consumers, innovate, and optimize efficiency, and Matchpoint is an ideal partner for us," said Alia J. Daniels, Co-Founder and COO, Revry. "We reach LGBTQ+ audiences and allies across the globe, and Matchpoint's seamless automation technology streamlines our ability to grow that even further."
