HISTORY

The Riverboat Gambling Act of 1990 made it possible for Harrah's Entertainment to open its first riverboat in Joliet on May 4, 1993; The Northern Star, a 210- foot, three-story vessel.

There have been many modernizations made over the last 30 years. In 1994, Harrah's expanded with a second vessel named the Southern Star and then in 1999, an 11-floor hotel was built.

In October of 2001, Harrah's left the riverboats behind and moved into a single-level barge which, allowed guests the ability to enter and exit the property without having the inconvenience of boarding times. Through multiple face-lifts and renovations, Harrah's Casino still brings people from all around the country to downtown Joliet.
