California Dreaming: JetBlue Adds More Coast to Coast Nonstops: Low-fare Carrier Offers Additional Flights from JFK, DC, Boston, LA/Long Beach, Oakland, Ontario, San Jose and San Diego

NEW YORK, Jan. 18, 2005 (PRIMEZONE) -- JetBlue Airways (Nasdaq:JBLU) is adding new coast-to-coast flights ahead of the busy summer travel season between California and New York, Washington, DC and Boston.

From New York's John F. Kennedy International Airport, the low-fare carrier is adding a second daily roundtrip to both Ontario and San Jose, a third daily roundtrip to San Diego, a sixth daily roundtrip to Oakland in the Bay Area, and an eighth daily roundtrip to LA/Long Beach.

From Washington's Dulles International Airport, JetBlue is introducing new daily service to San Diego, adding a third daily roundtrip to Oakland, and a fourth daily roundtrip to Long Beach.

Also, JetBlue recently announced new daily service from Boston's Logan International Airport to San Jose, and is adding a third daily roundtrip to both Oakland and Long Beach.

All new service will commence on May 3, with the exception of the second daily JFK-San Jose and third daily JFK-San Diego service which begin June 17.

The airline's regular one-way fares for all new service will range from $124(a) to $299(a). However, JetBlue is offering a "Take 5" sale fare between California and New York, Washington and Boston which starts from $85(a) each way. This sale fare requires a 5-day advance purchase, and must be bought at www.jetblue.com or by calling 1-800-JETBLUE by February 4, 2005. Travel must be completed by May 25, 2005. Customers should book early as seats are limited and may not be available on all flights.

"California, here we come again," said David Neeleman, JetBlue's Chairman and CEO. "This summer, JetBlue will offer 39 flights a day to and from six cities in California. These new flights offer our customers incredibly convenient schedules to meet all their travel needs."
