Northwest By JetBlue:: New Daily Nonstop Service Between Portland and JFK From Just $99* Each Way
Low-fare Carrier also Adds Second Daily Seattle Nonstop

NEW YORK, Feb. 23, 2005 (PRIMEZONE) -- JetBlue Airways (Nasdaq:JBLU) will introduce new daily service to Portland, OR from New York's John F. Kennedy International airport starting May 17, 2005, and add a second daily nonstop between Seattle and JFK commencing June 17.

The low-fare airline will offer an introductory sale fare between JFK and Portland of $99* one way, and $119* one way between Portland and Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, NY, and Burlington, VT. The sale fares must be purchased by March 17 for travel from May 17 through June 16, 2005. Seats are limited and customers are encouraged to book early. The airline's regular one-way fares will range from $124* to $299* each way.

"JetBlue is the only airline offering nonstop service from Portland to New York's JFK. And, for the first time, travelers flying from Portland to New York can enjoy up to 36 channels of digital satellite TV," said David Neeleman, JetBlue's Chairman and CEO. "And with our second daily nonstop to Seattle, flying between New York and the Northwest just got cheaper, more convenient and more entertaining."

"With JetBlue's outstanding reputation for pricing, comfort and overall product, this is an exciting new development for our community," said Bill Wyatt, Port of Portland executive director. "Not only will this new nonstop service promote increased commerce between our community and the world's largest business center; it will further expand the number of visitors from the east coast to Oregon and Southwest Washington."
