NEW YORK, Feb. 2, 2006 (PRIMEZONE) -- JetBlue Airways (Nasdaq:JBLU), New York's hometown airline, will begin two daily nonstop flights between New York's John F. "We're bringing low fares -- and a touch of blue -- to the famous pink beaches of Bermuda," said David Neeleman, JetBlue's CEO. "We know our customers are going to love our award-winning service and the convenience of nonstop flights from New York to this exciting new island destination."

"I am delighted with JetBlue Airways' announcement of new service to Bermuda from New York JFK Airport. This has been a top priority of my Ministry for more than four years. Thanks to JetBlue, air travel to Bermuda will soon be easier, more convenient, and far less expensive," said Deputy Premier of Bermuda and Minister of Tourism & Transport, Dr. the Hon. Ewart F. Brown. "For a unique island resort destination such as Bermuda, JetBlue provides the ideal combination of high quality service at affordable fares. For too long, visitors desiring the unique Bermuda experience had to pay very high airfares for a two-hour flight from New York to enjoy our world-famous pink sand beaches. Now more than ever, with JetBlue's every day low fares from the Big Apple, we welcome first-time visitors to discover Bermuda."
