JetBlue Gives Boston More of the West: San Francisco Service Set for Summer
Service to second Bay Area airport resumes May 1

Easy connections to Provincetown, Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket*

BOSTON, Dec. 11 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- JetBlue Airways (Nasdaq: JBLU), the customer-centered airline with the most nonstop destinations from Boston, today announces plans to resume service to San Francisco International Airport (SFO) on a seasonal basis effective May 1, 2009. San Francisco is one of 31 nonstop destinations JetBlue offers from Logan International Airport, including seven in the West.

JetBlue's summer 2009 schedule between Boston and the West boasts the following nonstop service - including three daily flights to the Los Angeles basin and three to the San Francisco Bay Area:

- Denver (1 daily flight)
- Las Vegas (1 daily flight)
- L.A./Long Beach, Calif. (3 daily flights)
- Oakland, Calif. (2 daily flights)
- San Diego (1 daily flight)
- San Francisco (1 daily flight)
- Seattle (1 daily flight)

"Our flights to Oakland and now San Francisco make jetting off to the Bay Area easier than ever, regardless of which airport you prefer to use," said Jim Celeste, JetBlue's General Manager in Boston. "JetBlue offers the most destinations of any airline from Logan, and while all those flights are great, we know what our customers care most about is getting there on-time and having a great experience doing it. At JetBlue, we're pleased to offer our customers all that - and more - for one great fare. On behalf of JetBlue's growing base of nearly 1,200 Boston crewmembers, we look forward to welcoming you aboard!"

All nonstop flights between Boston and the West are operated aboard JetBlue's roomy Airbus A320 fleet, which offers travelers the most legroom in coach of any U.S. airline (based on average fleet-wide seat pitch for U.S. airlines), unlimited free snacks and beverages, plus the most free live entertainment options of any airline.

Overnight flights from San Francisco -- like those from all Western U.S. destinations -- include JetBlue's complimentary Shut-Eye Service, featuring a Snooze Kit that includes earplugs and eyeshades, plus unlimited free snacks and beverages and a "good morning" hot towel service. Before arrival, customers will be treated to Dunkin' Donuts coffee, orange juice, and bottled spring water, allowing customers to land refreshed and ready to start the day.

Cape Air connections throughout New England
