To celebrate, New England beach-seekers that take two roundtrip flights between Boston and Nantucket can get a third trip free, plus an additional 500 points awarded to the eligible TrueBlue account. TrueBlue, the airline's loyalty program, is free to join and includes the ability to use points for any seat on any JetBlue operated flight, no blackout dates, and points that don't expire if you fly JetBlue or use your JetBlue Card by American Express at least once every twelve months. Additional information about TrueBlue and registration can be found at https://trueblue.jetblue.com/.

"Nantucket is the perfect place to cool off in the summer, and we're excited to make the trip easy and comfortable for our Boston customers," said John Checketts, director of route planning. "Boston continues to support JetBlue and our product and service offerings, and we'll continue to support Boston by adding destinations and focusing on delivering the best possible customer experience."

In addition to JetBlue's new seasonal service from Boston, daily nonstop flights between the airline's home base at New York's John F. Kennedy airport and two popular New England summer colonies - Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard - begin today. Service from New York's JFK to both Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard will run daily throughout the summer. A second daily flight between JFK and Nantucket will be added beginning June 21 through September 10, 2012.
