JetBlue Adds Three New Routes From Ronald Reagan Washington National Airport

Dec 18, 2014

Nonstop Flights to Fort Myers, Jacksonville and West Palm Beach Launch Today; JetBlue Now Offers 30 Daily Flights out of Reagan National

WASHINGTON, DC -- (Marketwired) -- 12/18/14 -- JetBlue Airways (NASDAQ: JBLU) today adds three more nonstop routes from Ronald Reagan Washington National Airport (DCA), all to Florida: Fort Myers (RSW), Jacksonville (JAX) and West Palm Beach (PBI). Service to Jacksonville is twice daily, while Fort Myers and West Palm Beach will enjoy daily service. During the holiday season from December 19 to January 4, 2015, JetBlue will offer a second daily service to both Fort Myers and West Palm Beach.

This year, JetBlue has significantly increased its presence at Reagan National, adding a total of six routes and also increasing frequencies in existing markets. Earlier this year, flights to Charleston, SC (CHS), Hartford, Conn. (BDL) and Nassau, Bahamas (NAS) were launched, and service to Tampa, Fla. (TPA), was boosted with a second daily flight.

"Washington has been a major focus of investment and growth for JetBlue in recent years, and we are pleased to now fly our full schedule of 30 daily roundtrips. Not only are we bringing lower and more reasonable fares to the heart of D.C., we are also providing customers with our award-winning service, proving the JetBlue effect is a true win-win for the public," said Rob Land, senior vice president, government affairs and associate general counsel.

"We welcome JetBlue's new nonstop flights to these popular Florida destinations," said Jack Potter, president and CEO of the Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority. "The expanded service further enhances the travel experience for our passengers."
