JetBlue Takes Off This Fall with New Nonstop Service to Mexico's Capital from Both New York-JFK and Boston

NEW YORK--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- JetBlue (NASDAQ: JBLU) today announced that its new and expanded Mexico City service, with daily nonstop flights between the Mexican capital and both New York City and Boston, is now out for sale. Service between New York's John F. Kennedy International Airport (JFK) and Mexico City International Airport (MEX), as well as service between Boston Logan International Airport (BOS) and Mexico City International Airport begins October 25, 2018. JetBlue is offering fares starting at $150 one way from New York (a) and $153 one way from Boston (a).

"Mexico City, the second largest city in the Americas and the largest city JetBlue flies to, is critically important as we continue to grow our footprint in Latin America and provide travelers with the award-winning JetBlue experience and low fares," said Giselle Cortes, director international Blue Cities, JetBlue. "And with service to more international destinations than ever before in both our New York and Boston focus cities we're ensuring JetBlue is a top choice for more travelers in both cities."

JetBlue's New York-JFK and Boston service will complement the airline's existing flights to Mexico City from its two Florida focus cities. The airline currently operates two daily flights between Mexico City and both Fort Lauderdale and Orlando. JetBlue first landed in Mexico City in 2015 and by this October will operate more than forty weekly flights between the U.S. and Mexico's capital city.
