"JetBlue has a long and successful tradition of connecting our customers to the very best vacation destinations, and Bozeman – with its fantastic downtown and nearby outdoor attractions – adds a unique, new city to our route map," said Andrea Lusso, director route planning. "With our growing list of one-of-a-kind destinations more customers can turn to JetBlue when looking to book their next getaway."

Bozeman is JetBlue's first destination in Montana and this new service expands the airline's presence in the western U.S. JetBlue's newest city offers a variety of attractions including bustling downtown Bozeman's stores and restaurants, the world-class skiing of Big Sky Resort an hour drive away, and access to Yellowstone National Park – the north and the west entrances are each just 90 miles from Bozeman. Whether hiking or skiing the mountains or taking in the beauty of Big Sky Country, the land and waters surrounding Bozeman are a magnificent way to enjoy the area.

"JetBlue has taken the time to get to know our community and all that we have to offer our esteemed visitors, and we look forward to a long-term partnership," said Daryl W. Schliem, President/CEO, Bozeman Area Chamber of Commerce. "This new partnership affords us the opportunity to expand our business market and allows our community to visit Southern California, and in return we open our doors to welcome Southern California an opportunity to visit Big Sky Country."

Bozeman Yellowstone International Airport is among the busiest airports in the Northwest with more than 1.2 million travelers using the facility every year. It is the airport of choice for travelers bound for Bozeman, Big Sky and Southwest Montana, and serves as the year-round gateway to Yellowstone. Bozeman's economy is one of the strongest in the State of Montana with tourism and the high-tech industry attracting visitors and new residents alike. Bozeman is also home to Montana State University, the Museum of the Rockies and a nationally-recognized public school system.

JetBlue will operate new Bozeman flights using its Airbus A320 aircraft offering the airline's award-winning service featuring the most legroom in coach (a); free Fly-Fi, the fastest broadband internet in the sky (b); complimentary and unlimited name-brand snacks and soft drinks; free, live DIRECTV® programming and 100+ channels of SiriusXM® radio at every seat.
