

Live Oak Bancshares, Inc. Announces Transfer of Listing of Voting Common Stock to the New York Stock Exchange

December 2, 2022

WILMINGTON, N.C., Dec. 02, 2022 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Live Oak Bancshares, Inc. (Nasdaq: LOB) announced today that it is transferring the listing of its voting common stock to the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) from The Nasdaq Stock Market LLC (Nasdaq). Live Oak Bancshares' voting common stock will begin trading on the NYSE on December 14, 2022, under its current ticker symbol LOB. Live Oak Bancshares will continue to trade its voting common stock on Nasdaq until the close of the market on December 13, 2022.

"We are pleased to join the NYSE and its prestigious trading platform as we continue on our mission to be America's small business bank," said Live Oak Bancshares Chairman and CEO James S. (Chip) Mahan III. "We believe in providing long-term value to our customers and shareholders, and we look forward to leveraging the NYSE platform as we broaden our products and services to our country's entrepreneurs."

"We are thrilled to welcome Live Oak Bancshares, the parent company of the nation's leading small business bank, to the NYSE community of icons and disruptors and look forward to supporting them as they continue to transform how banking is done," said John Tuttle, Vice Chairman, NYSE Group.
