From the Chairman

As part of our company's transformation, we took an important step last year, changing our name from WellPoint to Anthem to help simplify the way we connect with members, investors, and the communities we call home.

As a result, we are now all one Anthem -- all one team. And, it's the relationships we develop that strengthen our team. We believe each relationship is important to Anthem's success and we work hard to build quality relationships with consumers, our providers and our associates. Equally important are the relationships we, as Anthem, cultivate with our government and our elected officials.

At every level, these decision-makers have a significant impact on our business. We have a responsibility to all of our stakeholders to not only participate in the political process, but also ensure that we have a seat at the table as important health care policy issues are debated and decisions are made.

As part of that process, Anthem makes corporate political contributions, where legally permissible. There are also more than 1,900 involved and committed associates who voluntarily fund Anthem PAC and made it possible for our political action committee to contribute $742,500 to federal candidates and $280,000 to state candidates in 2014.

The government not only regulates how we do business, it represents one of our biggest customers. The decisions our elected officials make affect our ability to be easy to do business with and, ultimately, our success. We are deeply grateful to our associates who, not only understand this, but also made the important decision to support Anthem and Anthem PAC this year.

We look forward to an exciting 2015!

Julie Goon
Senior Vice President, Public Affairs
2015 Anthem PAC Chair

Policy on Participation in the Public Policy Process

POLICY ON PARTICIPATION IN THE PUBLIC POLICY PROCESS

As one of the nation's largest health benefits companies, Anthem plays a key role advocating national health care policy and practices to benefit our customers and the general public. Health care is an increasingly regulated industry both at the federal and state level. Elected and appointed officials make decisions that directly affect our ability to make quality health care coverage affordable and to improve the health of the communities we serve. Our active participation in the political process is essential to ensure that we have a voice in those decisions.

At Anthem, we are committed to advocating public policy solutions that best serve our customers, our stakeholders, our associates and our communities. Anthem believes that participation in the public policy process is critical to our core business because legislative and regulatory health care decisions made at the federal and state levels of government have a direct impact on our ability to serve our customers and compete in the marketplace. Advocacy is an important means of maintaining a viable operating environment and enhancing shareholder value, and we believe it better serves our business interests by creating a more informed policymaking process.

Anthem participates in the public policy process in several ways including executing a public affairs strategy designed to inform elected and appointed officials of key public policy issues related to the company's business; political giving through associate-funded federal and state political action committees; corporate political giving where legally allowed; and membership in health industry and business trade associations which help to advance our overall business objectives.

Anthem's participation in the process is guided by a set of core principles that govern our corporate policies on lobbying, political spending and general engagement in the public policy process.

CORE PRINCIPLES FOR PARTICIPATION

- ★ Anthem engages on public policy issues that are core to our business and generally avoids engaging on non-enterprise related issues.
- ★ Anthem works with members of government, others in our industry, the broader business community, our customers and the general public to advocate public policies that support our customers' interests and our business goals. The company's public policy positions and agenda are guided each year by our company's Mission, Objectives and Values.
- ★ In general, Anthem is supportive of public policies that promote competition and free markets in health care delivery and financing, that promote a role for the private sector in public programs, and that are in the best long-term interest for our customers, shareholders and Anthem.
- ★ Anthem supports the implementation of reforms necessary for the sustainability of the health care delivery and financing system that promote free market principles and advance the interests of our customers.
- ★ Political spending by Anthem, both with corporate dollars and through our political action committees, will reflect the company's interests and be used to further our public policy positions and agenda and not the personal agenda of individual officers, directors or associates.

Policy on Participation in the Public Policy Process

- ★ Anthem will not make political contributions based upon party affiliation, positions taken on other, non-enterprise related issues, contributions made in previous election cycles or client pressure. No campaign contribution will be given in anticipation of, in recognition of or in return for an official act.
- ★ Anthem adheres to all federal, state and local laws and regulations governing the public policy process and has established internal policies and procedures to ensure compliance with these requirements.
- ★ Anthem discloses contributions made and received in reports filed with the Federal Election Commission and the various state campaign finance offices, as required by law.
- ★ Management of Anthem's participation in the public policy process is the responsibility of the senior vice president of Public Affairs in accordance with Anthem's enterprise risk management framework. This position reports directly to Anthem's Chief Executive Officer. Public Affairs updates are provided regularly to Anthem's Board of Directors.
- ★ The Audit Committee of Anthem's Board of Directors reviews, at least annually, the Company's political strategy, contributions and activities and oversees compliance with the Company's policies and procedures regarding political contributions and activities. The risks associated with political and lobbying activities are managed in accordance with Anthem's enterprise risk management framework. In addition, Anthem's Internal Audit Department assesses the risk related to political giving within its annual risk assessment process, has performed reviews in the past, and will perform additional reviews as deemed appropriate.

CORPORATE POLITICAL CONTRIBUTIONS

While federal law prohibits Anthem from making corporate contributions to federal candidates, Anthem makes direct contributions to support state candidates, political parties, political action committees, and ballot measures in those states where such corporate contributions are allowed by law and may make in-kind contributions, such as hosting a reception and paying expenses associated with the event.

Certain criteria are considered in making corporate political contributions, including the following which have been endorsed by Anthem's Board of Directors:

- ★ Supports public policy that promotes private competition, choice and free markets in the delivery and financing of health care.
- ★ Voting record or announced positions on issues important to Anthem and its customers.
- ★ Demonstrated leadership on key committees of importance to our business.
- ★ Impact of contribution in a state or district where Anthem has a large concentration of employees and/or customers.
- ★ Impact of contribution on the campaign.

Throughout the year, members of Anthem's public affairs organization make recommendations for corporate contributions. The senior vice president of Public Affairs of the company must approve each corporate contribution. Other members of the public affairs organization involved with political contributions include the vice president of State Affairs, the vice president of Federal Affairs and their direct reports. In making corporate contributions, Anthem complies with all disclosure requirements as prescribed by state and federal law.

Policy on Participation in the Public Policy Process

ANTHEM POLITICAL ACTION COMMITTEE CONTRIBUTIONS

Anthem provides an opportunity for eligible Anthem associates, as defined by federal and state law, to participate in the political process by sponsoring the nonpartisan Anthem, Inc. Political Action Committee (“Anthem PAC”), which allows them to voluntarily combine their personal funds to support federal and state candidates, political parties and political committees. Anthem PAC disbursement of funds is made in accordance with a budget, and the same contribution criteria identified for corporate contributions is considered in determining Anthem PAC contributions.

Throughout the year, members of Anthem’s public affairs organization and associate PAC members offer recommendations for Anthem PAC contributions. Anthem PAC contributions are approved by the senior vice president of Public Affairs of the company. Anthem PAC operates pursuant to all relevant state and federal laws, and complies with all public disclosure requirements. Information about Anthem PAC’s contributions may be found on the Federal Election Commission’s website.

When participating in the political process, Anthem associates must comply with the company’s ethics and compliance requirements identified in the “Standards of Ethical Business Conduct,” which is available on our website. This document sets forth appropriate associate conduct relating to political activity and contributions, as well as interaction with government officials and agencies.

ANTHEM TRADE ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIPS

Like most major corporations, Anthem is a member of a number of national and state industry and business trade associations (organized under section 501(c)(6) of the Internal Revenue Code) to help advance our public policy agenda and related business goals. Anthem believes that membership in these associations is generally consistent with the company’s interests and plays a valuable role in bringing a collective voice to the process. Anthem also understands that not all members of an association will come to agreement on every issue. Even when Anthem does not share the view of one of these associations, we still believe that membership is worthwhile because these associations encourage dialogue and help to move the industry to a consensus on important policy issues. However, Anthem does take these situations into consideration annually when determining annual membership. Payments to industry and business trade associations are subject to the same “Core Principles for Participation” and Audit Committee review and oversight.

Lobbying Activities

Anthem engages in lobbying activity to advocate our position on public policy issues with elected officials and others in federal and state government. These are issues that affect our company, our associates and, most importantly, our customers. In 2014, Anthem spent approximately $6.7 million on state lobbying activities¹ and $6.5 million on federal lobbying activities².

The senior vice president of Public Affairs of the company has oversight of all lobbying activities and expenditures. Other members of the Public Affairs organization involved with lobbying include the vice president of State Affairs, the vice president of Federal Affairs and their direct reports. Anthem complies with all disclosure requirements as prescribed by state and federal law.

In 2014, Anthem paid dues to national and state business and trade associations of which a portion may be allocated to non-deductible lobbying activity and political expenditures. Below is a list of the national and state business and trade associations whose dues were $50,000 or more for 2014, including the portion allocated to non-deductible lobbying activity and political expenditures.
