The information presented above should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes and Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations included in WellPoint’s 2008 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform to current year presentation.
In 2008, WellPoint faced both company-specific and broader economic challenges. No industry, including health care, was immune from the effects of a slowing national economy. The economic environment also placed increased pressure on our customers to tighten their own budgets, including their health care expenditures. Even in the midst of these challenges, WellPoint remained a profitable and financially strong company.

We took swift and decisive actions to manage our own challenges as well as to address external factors throughout the year. In particular, we significantly reduced our claims inventory levels, refreshed our information technology strategy, and strengthened our financial reserves. We have continued to effectively manage our administrative expense costs as a percentage of revenue while making investments to grow our business for the future. These actions contributed to positive results for our customers. As an example, our Member TouchPoint Measure scores were up 4.5 points in 2008 and our customer service metrics continue to improve.

Increasing Shareholder Value in 2009

As the largest health benefits company in America by membership, WellPoint holds a unique position within the health care marketplace. We are well-equipped to address the current challenges and capitalize on the opportunities presented by the economy. Now more than ever our customers are looking to us to create more value for their health care benefits. We will continue to focus on excelling at day-to-day operations for our customers and will strive to exceed our operational commitments and financial expectations.

We expect earnings per share growth in 2009 through innovative product offerings, disciplined pricing, effective medical cost management and efficient capital management. We will continue investing for future growth by delivering services that will help improve the quality and affordability of health care for our customers and ultimately lower our administrative cost structure.

Our national breadth and diverse membership position us well for the current economic downturn as we have multiple sources of revenue. As a Blue Cross and/or Blue Shield licensee in 14 states, we have the most recognizable brand in our industry and offer our members unparalleled access to 82 percent of all physicians and 94 percent of all hospitals in the United States through the BlueCard® program. Our brand, access to broad provider networks across the country and leading presence in our markets deliver sustainable competitive advantages.

There is a unifying urgency associated with achieving responsible health care reform in America. WellPoint is a leading advocate for responsible health care reform and is actively involved in the discussions to address quality, cost and coverage. I encourage you to review page 26 of this report, where you will find a summary of the four cornerstones of reform that we believe will help improve quality, eliminate waste and optimize costs in the health care system we all share.

Last year’s accomplishments and this year’s outlook are important to discuss, but we must never lose focus on the most important reason we’ve become the nation’s preeminent health benefits company: our customers. We’ve organized this year’s report around our Corporate Promise, “to simplify the connection between health, care and value,” because it describes the three areas where our health plans partner with our customers, doctors and hospitals. Each section includes examples of the products, services and strategies that simplify the health care experiences for the 1 in 9 Americans we serve.

When you read this report, I encourage you to pay particular attention to the people, including: Christine Rubio-Puente, who makes a difference in the Health of our communities through our Community Resource Centers; Maria Garcia, a nurse case manager who helps to ensure the proper Care of our members; and Dr. Mark DeFrancesco, a physician in Connecticut who sees Value in providing incentives for better patient care. They are among the many talented employees and partners helping us fulfill our promise each and every day.

Health. Care. Value. represents the foundation of our promise to our customers. As we simplify their connection, WellPoint will continue to lead our industry while improving the lives of the people we serve and the health of our communities.

Angela F. Braly
President and Chief Executive Officer

Three brief words convey WellPoint’s promise to everyone we serve. Together, they guide our effort to improve the millions of lives we touch daily. Integrated, they strengthen our ability to help heal and prevent disease. Shared collectively, they inspire our people to constantly simplify their connection. These words tell WellPoint’s story, and how we benefit our members’ lives with better choices and control over their own well being.
Health.

This is our most precious possession. Quality of life has no greater measure. Whether we help maintain it or bring about its return after sickness or injury, protecting our members – body and mind, with compassion and dignity – is core to WellPoint’s mission.
OUR HEALTH CONNECTS US

The choices we make affect not only our own health, but also the health of friends, family and coworkers. When we decide to lose weight, quit smoking or start exercising, studies show that it inspires others around us to do the same. What’s good for the individual creates a ripple effect, one that can ultimately extend through the health care system. Through WellPoint’s range of plans, provider networks and wellness programs, we aim to strengthen this connection and start a health movement that helps contain costs and improve quality of life. After all, we’re all in this together.

IMPROVING ACCESS AT THE LOCAL LEVEL

WellPoint’s Community Resource Centers are dedicated health-access facilities for our members, providers and the underserved. The centers’ outreach specialists conduct education and wellness programs and address social service needs and other barriers to navigating the health care system. By partnering with community organizations, the centers give thousands of families critical information and support to help improve their lives. And as more of these centers go “online,” we hope to reach even more underserved members in our communities.

WellPoint associate Christine Rubio-Puente is one of the multi-lingual professionals staffing a Community Resource Center in Indianapolis, Indiana. She routinely helps with specific community needs, such as education and wellness programs for diabetes or asthma. Here she confers with a member about health resources for her toddler.
I thought it was wonderful that my health plan does such a thing. We women tend to put our family first and forget our health.

Sincerely,
Joan

INFORMATION TOOLS FOR LIVING WELL
Throughout our history, WellPoint has empowered members with valuable resources to help them take a more active role in their health. Online tools engage members and help them understand health risks, set realistic goals and adopt healthier behaviors. Health coaches reinforce online education regarding nutrition, smoking cessation, fitness and stress management. Equipped with this information — and with access to the nation’s broadest network of health care professionals — members can improve their health and lower health care costs today and in the future.

PERSONAL HEALTH CARE GUIDANCE
WellPoint’s 2008 acquisition of Resolution Health, Inc. added a powerful new tool, MyHealth Advantage, to help members receive the best care possible. The service uses sophisticated data analytics to scan individuals’ claims data, lab results and other health information. It then sends notices about potential drug interactions and health care improvement opportunities, so that members, physicians and care managers can take appropriate action. MyHealth Advantage not only strengthens patient/physician communication, but also promotes better compliance with recommended care.
Care.

This is the means to the end, embracing what we do and why we do it. It expresses our service ethic that’s present at each touch point. This is the heart of our culture, the soul of WellPoint’s customer-first approach. We provide access to quality, affordable care and exceptional service to our members. It’s that simple.
SPECIALIZING IN COMPASSION
WellPoint’s nurse care managers serve as personal advocates to members in times of need. When an illness or injury results in a prolonged intensive-care stay, nurse care managers coordinate with physicians to help design the best care plan. They work with members’ families and providers, offering education, motivation and encouragement. They also help plan for discharge from the acute care setting, coordinating with community services as needed. In addition, they stress disease prevention by using predictive modeling to identify members at high risk and suggest custom health solutions.

HEALTH. CARE. VALUE.
When a complex condition results in a prolonged hospitalization, members and their families have a friend in registered nurse Maria Garcia of Columbus, Georgia. As a case management discharge manager, she helps to plan and direct the critical transition from intensive care to an outpatient or home setting.

TAKING MEASURE OF HEALTH IMPROVEMENTS
WellPoint’s two health improvement indices are powerful benchmarks of our performance. Our Member Health Index tracks how well we manage improving members’ health through activities to increase preventive care, care management, clinical outcomes and patient safety. The companion State Health Index monitors public health indicators in our communities to help us build and support local programs to improve health care. We are the first health benefits company to link improving the health of our members to the compensation of every associate in the company.
To help members make informed decisions about choosing a hospital when they face a complex condition, WellPoint designates a network of specialty care centers. The program identifies hospitals that have distinguished themselves in terms of expertise and outcomes in the areas of transplant, bariatric surgery, cardiac care and complex or rare cancers. For example, we recently completed an analysis that showed the participating cardiac care centers improve outcomes while reducing cost of care. Members can learn more about these centers through www.anthem.com.

Through our subsidiary, HealthCore, and in collaboration with leading government and academic institutions, we are pursuing better monitoring of approved drugs and therapies after they enter clinical use. We believe our Healthcare Safety Sentinel System will be capable of detecting safety problems faster than current practices. After launching in late 2009, the system will have the ability to monitor targeted drugs or other health care treatments and report spikes in adverse events – information we hope will allow faster, more informed decision making by health care professionals.
Value.

This is the yardstick. This is the difference between one company and the next, the ratio between what members or customers get and what they pay. While value can be defined by premium rates and lists of services, it’s also often conveyed through the intangibles – such as the passion we bring to affordable new products and services we provide.
Among our newest innovations is Anthem Care Comparison℠, an online tool that lets members see how their choice of hospitals for a specific procedure may impact their costs. In collaboration with Zagat® Survey, we introduced another tool allowing consumers to review their patient-doctor experiences using Zagat’s trusted methodology. And in 2008, WellPoint and the WellPoint Foundation launched a collaboration with the X PRIZE Foundation to develop a $10 million competition for revolutionary new solutions to our nation’s most pressing health care challenges.

As chief medical office of Women’s Health Connecticut, the largest women’s health care practice in the nation, Dr. Mark DeFrancesco has been a vocal advocate for WellPoint’s performance incentive initiatives, which reward physicians and hospitals for following recommended care guidelines that result in better patient outcomes, reduced errors and higher member satisfaction.
Too many Americans are uninsured, or lack adequate coverage. Our SmartSense® plan offers a solution that balances affordability with the kinds of benefits consumers most want. Members choose the exact coverage options that fit their needs, at prices lower than many other products. As a result, the plan delivers reliable protection against expensive and unexpected medical bills, while offering a variety of deductibles that allow consumers to select a premium they can afford – with quality and value previously out of their reach.

Affordable Plans for the Individual

When we introduced SmartSense® plans in Nevada, independent broker Denise Brown embraced the multiple benefit options and very reasonable rate structures as an innovative solution for affordable quality health insurance. Since then, SmartSense has become a popular offering, matching a choice of benefits with premiums that meet her customers’ needs.

Doing More with Less

Lower selling, general and administrative expenses (SG&A) as a percentage of revenues allow us to offer more affordable products. That’s why between 2000 and 2008, we reduced our SG&A expense ratio from 21.4 percent to 14.6 percent. At the same time, we invested for growth and launched new programs and products, such as 360° Health® and Prism™. Although our administrative costs per member are among the industry’s lowest, we continue to strive to improve and keep our products and services accessible and affordable.
The Blue Cross Blue Shield BlueCard® program networks provide access to more physicians and hospitals than any other health plan network in the industry.*
