"Keith has contributed to driving increased awareness of Atkore's customer-focused mission, solid financial results and our long-term strategy," commented David Johnson, Atkore Chief Financial Officer. "As a result, we have built a strong framework that will leverage John's knowledge and experience to build upon our relationships and drive stronger valuation for the company."

Mr. Deitzer joins Atkore from Alcoa Corporation (a spinoff of Alcoa Inc.) where he managed the quarterly earnings release process, investor roadshows as well as interactions with analysts regarding company performance and strategic priorities. During his time there, Alcoa Corporation was ranked as the #1 Investor Relations Program by Institutional Investor Magazine in the Metals & Mining sector. Mr. Deitzer also held investor relations and corporate strategy roles during his tenure at H.J. Heinz Company, where he developed market analysis, presentation materials and supporting information for quarterly earnings conference calls. Mr. Deitzer was also involved in management consulting and strategy at Alcoa, Inc. He gained commercial experience at PPG Industries, where he held roles of Segment Manager and Global Account Manager with responsibilities for growing the company's overall leadership position in the aluminum extrusion coatings business and serving one of the top accounts for the Asia-Pacific region.

Mr. Deitzer earned a Master of Business Administration in Finance and Strategy from Carnegie Mellon University, Tepper School of Business, and a Bachelor of Science in Chemical Engineering from Case Western Reserve University.
