

Covalon Announces Changes to its Board of Directors

- Dr. Samantha Nutt has Been Elected to Covalon's Board
- Mr. Martin Goldfarb has Retired from Covalon's Board

MISSISSAUGA, ON, March 10, 2022 /CNW/ - Covalon Technologies Ltd. (the "Company" or "Covalon") (TSXV: COV) (OTCQX: CVALF), an advanced medical technologies company, today announced that Dr. Samantha Nutt has been elected a Director subject to TSX approval and Mr. Martin Goldfarb has retired as a Director of the Covalon Board.

Dr. Samantha Nutt (MD, MSc, CCFP, FCPC, C.M.) is a medical doctor, best-selling author, and award-winning humanitarian. As Founder and President of War Child Canada and War Child USA, Dr. Nutt has worked with children and their families at the frontline of many of the world's major crises. With a career that has spanned more than two decades and dozens of conflict zones, her international work has benefited millions of war-affected children globally.

Dr. Nutt has been appointed to the Order of Canada and is a recipient of the Order of Ontario. She graduated summa cum laude from McMaster University, earned an M.Sc. in Public Health with distinction from the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, and holds a Fellowship in Community Medicine/Public Health (FRCPC) from the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada. She is further certified by the College of Family Practice (CCFP) and completed a sub-specialization in women's health through the University of Toronto as a Women's Health Scholar. Dr. Nutt is the recipient of numerous honorary doctorates from universities in Canada and the U.S.A. She is a staff physician at Women's College Hospital in Toronto and an Assistant Professor of Medicine at the University of Toronto.

"We are delighted that Dr. Nutt has joined Covalon's Board," said Brian Pedlar, Chief Executive Officer. "Her specialized medical expertise and extraordinary philanthropic achievements will be a tremendous asset to Covalon."

The Company also announced that Mr. Martin Goldfarb has retired from Covalon's Board.

Amir Bloor, Chair of Covalon's Board of Directors, said, "We are extremely grateful for Marty's numerous contributions as a Director, supporter, and mentor to Covalon for many years. Marty has continuously pushed Covalon to improve and is one of the key reasons Covalon succeeded in its turnaround that saw the Company finish 2021 with a clean balance sheet, no debt, and $25 million in cash. Marty's guidance, knowledge, and passion helped Covalon navigate through a challenging time during the Covid-19 pandemic. Marty is a legend for his many business, government, private equity, and philanthropic accomplishments which have resulted in many public recognitions including the Order of Canada. Covalon will forever be grateful for his many contributions to the Company."
