

Meet our newest aircraft: The Airbus A321XLR

Our latest arrival has touched down

Joining American's fleet is the Airbus A321XLR, an aircraft designed for long journeys with comfort and style. Featuring the new luxurious Flagship Suite® seats, a relaxing Premium Economy and modernized Main Cabin, the A321XLR offers customers a refined premium travel journey.

Key facts

- 155 passengers
- First domestic flight: JFK-LAX on Dec. 18, 2025
- First international flight: JFK-EDI on March 8, 2026
- Received first A321XLR on Oct. 22, 2025

Customer comforts

American's newest aircraft demonstrates the airline's commitment to providing a premium travel experience whether customers are traveling from coast to coast or across the ocean.

Flagship Suite®

- 20 seats
- More personal storage
- Wireless charging pad
- Bluetooth connectivity
- Privacy door
- Reading light, mirror and trinket tray

Premium Economy

- 12 seats
- Privacy headrest wings
- Adjustable calf and footrests
- Wireless charging pad
- Bluetooth connectivity

Main Cabin

- 123 seats
- Bluetooth connectivity
- Power at every seat
- 4K monitors

Bluetooth connectivity to inflight entertainment

High-speed Wi-Fi

Seatback
entertainment

USB-C and AC power

American's Airbus A321 aircraft

American's fleet of A321 aircraft operates on thousands of flights each day, taking up to 196 customers on vacation, business and everywhere in between.

A321

190 seats

Cabin	Seat count	Seat pitch	Seat width
First	20	37"	21"
Main Cabin Extra	35	38"	18.5"
Main Cabin	135	35 - 36"	17.2"

A321neo

196 seats

Cabin	Seat count	Seat pitch	Seat width
First	20	37"	21"
Main Cabin Extra	35	34 - 39"	16.6 - 18.7"
Main Cabin	129	30"	16.3 - 18.7"

A321XLR

155 seats

Cabin	Seat count	Seat pitch	Seat width
Flagship Suite®	20	Lie -flat	21"
Premium Economy	12	38	21.3"
Main Cabin Extra	12	34+	16.6 - 18.7"
Main Cabin	123	32	16.3 - 18.7"