

American Airlines partners with Stand Up To Cancer to save lives

11/14/2022

Last week, American Airlines hosted representatives from Stand Up To Cancer (SU2C) for a rally where team members learned more about the six-year partnership. This year's fundraising campaign raised more than $2.5 million and team members learned how that contributed directly to SU2C's mission to fund lifesaving cancer research.

Team members heard directly from SU2C co-founder Rusty Robertson and Eric Stonestreet, celebrity ambassador and two-time Emmy award-winning actor, best known for his portrayal of Cam on the hit comedy series Modern Family, who shared his personal connection to the organization.

