

AAdvantage Members Earn More Rewards, More Often

3/1/2023

FORT WORTH, Texas — Beginning March 1, American Airlines AAdvantage® members can receive benefits and earn rewards more often — including before and beyond reaching status — and have more options to customize their travel experiences through Loyalty Point Rewards.

Announced in December, the program's continued evolution provides more value for members, including more opportunities to achieve rewards even before reaching status. Learn more about the AAdvantage® program below:

MILEAGE EXPIRATION

Miles don't expire for customers who hold an active AAdvantage® credit card or for AAdvantage® members under 21 years of age. To keep miles active, members must earn or redeem miles on American or with an AAdvantage® partner at least once every 24 months.

Loyalty Point Rewards and status

By earning eligible AAdvantage® miles, members also earn Loyalty Points, which count toward earning status, Loyalty Point Rewards, and additional benefits during travel. These Loyalty Point Rewards give members more rewards even before reaching status, and between and beyond each status level, delivering more value for all members throughout their journey.

Status tiers and Loyalty Point Rewards levels provide a range of benefits: earlier boarding, complimentary upgrades, free checked bags and more. Members qualify for status based on the Loyalty Points posted to their account between March 1 and the end of February the following calendar year. Members then enjoy status from the moment they achieve it through March 31 of the following membership year.
